AFTER SALMAN, NOW SHAH RUKH KHAN RECEIVES DEATH THREAT

Bandra police station received a call, reportedly from Chhattisgarh, threatening Bollywood actor Shah Rukh Khan and demanding ₹50 lakh

CALL MADE FROM RAIPUR-BASED LAWYER'S PHONE

The Mumbai police said the call was made from a phone number registered in the name of a lawyer based in Raipur. The lawyer told the police that he lost his phone last week and had filed a complaint. He later told the media that he had once filed a complaint against the actor over a movie dialogue perceived as hurting the sentiments of the Bishnoi community

CASE REGISTERED, CALLER NOT IDENTIFIED

- A case has been registered by the Bandra police under sections 308(4) (extortion) and 351(3) (4) (criminal intimidation) of Bharatiya Nyaya Sanhita (BNS). No arrest has been made yet, an official said

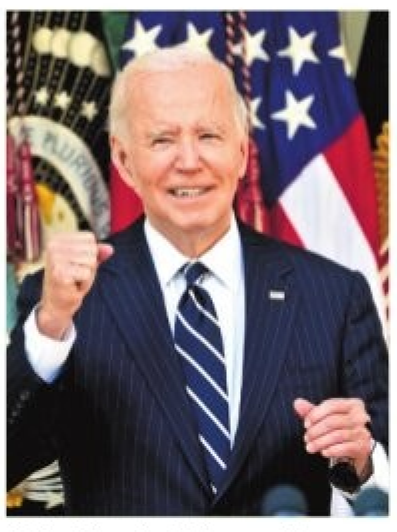
Transition of power will be peaceful: Biden



US President Joe Biden speaking at the White House on Thursday | PTI/AP

AGENCIES

A day after Republican nominee Donald Trump emerged victorious in the presidential elections, US President Joe Biden said his administration would ensure a smooth and peaceful transfer of power.

In his address to the nation late on Thursday night — his first remarks from the White House since Donald Trump's win — Biden said he had spoken to Trump and assured him of an orderly transition of power.

Biden's address came a day after Vice-President Kamala Harris gave her concession speech and promised to keep up the "fight that fuelled this campaign."

In a bid to bring a closure to the bitterly contested election, which split people into two groups with extremely opposite views, Biden said: "Something you can do no matter who you voted for is, see each other not as adversaries but as fellow Americans."

Consoling supporters of Harris, he said electoral defeats are temporary. "Setbacks are unavoidable, but giving up is unforgivable," he said.

Earlier in the day, Chinese President Xi Jinping congratulated Trump on his election victory. Xi, in his congratulatory message to Trump, posted on the Chinese Foreign Ministry website, called for the two countries to strengthen dialogue and communication, properly manage differences and expand mutually beneficial cooperation.

Trump is expected to announce staff picks soon. Meanwhile, US media reports said the Justice Department is planning to drop cases against Trump in line with its policy that a sitting President can't be prosecuted. P15

Consular aid off as Canada fails to offer security

YESHI SELI @ New Delhi

CANADA'S failure to provide security assurance to Indian diplomats facing threats from Khalistani radicals, forced the India Consulate General in Toronto to cancel consular camps over the weekend. The decision comes days after Khalistani elements indulged in violence outside a temple in Brampton, where a consular camp co-organised by the Hindu Sabha mandir was underway.

"In view of the security agencies conveying their inability to provide minimum security protection to the community camp organisers, Consulate has decided to cancel some scheduled camps," the Indian Consulate in Toronto said.

Curiously, Canada also blocked social media handles of Australia Today, a diaspora news outlet, which had carried an interview with External Affairs Minister S Jaishankar on the India-Canada ties. "This highlights Ottawa's hypocrisy towards freedom of speech,'' said Randhir Jaiswal, MEA spokesperson.

In his media engagements in Australia, Jaishankar spoke about the Trudeau government making allegations without evidence, unacceptable surveillance of Indian diplomats, and the political space Canada has given to anti-India elements.

Prime Minister Narendra Modi had described as cowardly, attempts to intimidate Indian diplomats in Canada.

Consular camps are part of the mission's outreach programme for the diaspora to facilitate documentation.

Jet liquidation flight rostered as SC claims there's no alternative

Orders forfeiture of Jalan-Kalrock consortium's ₹200 cr

ARSHAD KHAN @ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Thursday dashed all hopes of a revival of Jet Airways as it ordered liquidation of the firm, which had been undergoing the insolvency resolution process for over five years. A bench of Chief Justice D Y Chandrachud and Justices J B Pardiwala and Manoj Misra set aside the National Company Law Appellate Tribunal (NCLAT) ruling that upheld the transfer of the airline's ownership to Jalan-Kalrock Consortium (JKC).

The bench stated that the liquidation was in the interest of creditors, workers, and other stakeholders of Jet Airways. The court noted JKC's failure to infuse the promised funds of ₹350 crore to revive the airline.

The SC said no progress was seen in the resolution plan even after five years, leaving it with no choice but to send Jet Airways into liquidation. "Keeping in mind the fact that almost five years have elapsed since the Resolution Plan was duly approved by the NCLAT and there being no progress worth the name, we are left with no other option but to invoke our jurisdiction under Article 142 of the Constitution and direct that the corporate debtor be taken in liquidation," it said in the order.

The SC held that the NCLAT's directive for the SRA to adjust ₹150 crore towards the first tranche payment was in disregard of the Supreme Court's earlier order and the terms of the resolution plan.

The bench also ordered forfeiture of ₹200 crore invested by the consortium and authorised the lenders to invoke the ₹150 crore bank guarantee to recover some of their dues.

The NCLAT had in March upheld the resolution plan of Jet Airways and approved the transfer of its ownership to JKC. SBI, Punjab National Bank, and JC Flowers Asset Reconstruction Pvt Ltd challenged the NCLAT verdict.

Jet Airways stopped flying in April 2019. The National Company Law Tribunal in June 2021 gave approval to the Kalrock Capital and Murari Lal Jalan consortium's bid for Jet Airways, eight months after the lenders had given a go-ahead to its resolution plan.

The consortium was supposed to infuse ₹1,375 crore in Jet Airways over 2-3 years. In the first tranche, it was to infuse ₹350 crore and ₹250 crore in the second tranche. The remaining ₹775 crore was to be infused from the second year. However, the consortium put in only ₹200 crore.

'NCLAT ORDER PERVERSE'

The Supreme Court rapped the NCLAT for allowing the Jalan-Kalrock Consortium to take over Jet Airways without fulfilling its payment obligations, terming the Appellate Tribunal's verdict 'perverse'

PAYMENT NORMS FLOUTED

SC noted that the NCLAT's approval of adjusting the performance bank guarantee as a partial payment was in "flagrant disregard" of an earlier directive of the court, as well as the terms of the resolution plan

JPC CHIEF MEETS FARMERS, HITS OUT AT WAQF BOARD

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Hubballi/Vijayapura

JAGADAMBIKA Pal, chairman of Joint Parliamentary Committee (JPC) on Waqf Amendment Bill, 2024, on Thursday questioned the legality of converting agricultural lands, mutts, and temple properties into Waqf assets.

He noted that this could not be happening without the complicity of state officials. He received petitions from the aggrieved people in Hubballi and Vijayapura.

Addressing the media in Hubballi, Pal expressed concern over declaration of lands with revenue records dating back to centuries as Waqf properties.

He said complaints have been pouring in from Dharwad, Bidar, Kalaburagi and Shivamogga districts, where thousands of acres of land associated with ancient mutts and temples are being reclassified as Waqf properties.

Pal said, "How can lands that farmers have been cultivating since the 1920s or 1930s be suddenly declared as Waqf properties?" P4

1,624 CASES IN 3 YEARS

Conviction rate in rape cases only 0.36% in state

RAKSHITH GOWDA @ Bengaluru

THE conviction rate in rape cases is only 0.36 % of the total number of cases reported in the state in the past three years. Lack of evidence, delay in trial, and shortage of judges are said to be the reasons for the poor conviction rate.

Of the 1,624 rape cases registered from 2022 till this September, only six cases ended in conviction, while 74 cases ended in acquittals. In all, 298 cases are under investigation and 1,037 cases are in courts. As many as 104 cases were found to be false.

As of September 2024, Bengaluru city alone reported 131 rape cases, followed by Tumakuru 20, and Chikkaballapur and Hassan 17 each.

According to the State Crime Records Bureau (SCRB), from January to September this year, 300 cases of rape were committed by known persons, 34 by victims' relatives, 37 by their neighbours, eight by unknown persons and 11 by gangs.

Former DG & IGP ST Ramesh told TNIE that the conviction rate in criminal cases is very low. He cited several reasons for this. The primary cause is delay in court trial.

Yoga helps B'luru teacher escape murder bid, 5 held

V VELAYUDHAM @ Chikkaballapur

AN incident where a yoga teacher was allegedly kidnapped and assaulted by four supari killers and dumped in a forest area, believing her to be dead, has been reported from Dibburhalli police limits in Chikkaballapur district.

Though the incident took place on October 24, it came to light on Thursday with the arrest of the accused.

According to the police, the teacher, who became unconscious after the accused assaulted her, pretended to be dead. Yoga helped her hold her breath. After the accused left the spot, she reported the matter to the police with the help of some people from Dibburhalli. Chikkaballapur Superintendent of Police Kushal Chowksey said Archana, 35, the yoga teacher, had a strained relationship with her husband. The couple have two children and they hail from Krishnarajapuram in Bengaluru.

Ejipura flyover work could restart after St John's hands over land

Additional Chief Secretary and BBMP Administrator SR Umashankar and other officials inspect pending works at Ejipura flyover | EXPRESS

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

ADDITIONAL Chief Secretary and Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) Administrator SR Umashankar inspected development works being carried out in BBMP limits, and gave directions for better coordination among agencies.

He visited Hebbal Junction and inspected the first phase of flyover work by Bengaluru Development Authority. He instructed officials to develop comprehensive intermodal connectivity, keeping in mind the proposed flyover and underbridge work, Metro work, suburban railway work from K-RIDE, tunnel road from the corporation and other works. "In order to control traffic at Hebbal Junction, we have already prepared a master plan and taken steps to ensure there is no problem for the movement of citizens," he said, adding that work on the flyover in KR Puram is already in progress. He instructed BDA officials to complete the work by March-end.

With regard to Metro station work near Kempapura Junction, Umashankar said since there is no traffic congestion at night, work should be carried out at a fast pace. The administrator also spoke on the high-density corridor being constructed from Goraguntepalya to KR Puram. "Work is in progress near Veeranna Palya Junction. This includes development of side drains, repair and asphalting of service roads, repair of footpaths, and installation of vertical gratings to ensure that water falling on the road flows smoothly into the side drains. Work should be carried out without causing any problems to citizens," he said.

As the Metro station at Nagawara Junction gets flooded during rain, he said a permanent solution needs to be found to prevent waterlogging. Umashankar also visited Silk Board Junction and inspected the ongoing work, and gave instructions to clear silt in the rajakaluve, widen it and raise the retaining walls. He later visited Ejipura and inspected pending flyover work. Officials informed him that a meeting was held with St John's Institute, and a request was made to hand over land that is crucial for the project. The ACS also visited BDA Complex in Jayanagar and instructed officials to thoroughly examine all aspects and prepare a detailed plan, and proceed with construction. The budget for development is said to be Rs 252 crore.

United Way to install 1600 RWH pits in 250 parks

MOHAMMED YACOOB @Bengaluru

THE Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) roped in United Way Bengaluru to install 1,600 rainwater harvesting pits in 250 parks across the city. Deputy Director of BBMP Horticulture Department, Chandrashekhar, shared that the organisation has already installed 634 such pits in BBMP parks. Following applications to set up an additional 2000 pits, BBMP granted permission for 1600 more pits, selecting zones such as RR Nagar, Yelahanka, East, West and South. Prashanth Prakash, Chairman of United Way Bengaluru and UnboxingBLR, said that 'One Billion Drops' project was founded by United Way to improve groundwater levels and water security. "Through systematic, scientific, and consistent efforts to conserve rainwater by encouraging percolation and recharging aquifers, we aim to minimise excess runoff and waste. Percolation pits are being dug under the 'One Billion Drops' project. This initiative aligns closely with the Government of India's 'Catch Water Where it Falls, When it Falls' campaign. So far, we have completed 5,600 percolation wells in and around Bengaluru and we aim to add another 2,000 by March 2025," said Prakash.

A BBMP official noted that the declining groundwater levels and drying up of lakes due to development works contributed to extreme heat when temperature exceeded to 34 degree celsius last April and May. "If we ensure improvement in groundwater table during summer, our dependence on water tankers will be nil and we can keep our parks and surrounding areas cool," he said.

KSRTC to do away with conductors

AKNISREE KARTHIK @Bengaluru

TO cut down on operational costs, the Karnataka State Road Transport Corporation (KSRTC) is operating more than 10 per cent of its buses without conductors, thus reducing the cost per kilometre (CPKM) by Rs 10. The bus corporation has currently opted for the 'single-crew model' in over 850 buses.

Sharing details about the model, KSRTC MD Anbu Kumar said, "The model has been introduced in point-to-point routes with few or no stops on select routes such as Bengaluru-Mysuru, Bengaluru-Hassan, Bengaluru-Davanagere, Bengaluru-Shivamogga, Bengaluru-Madikeri, Bengaluru-Kolar and others. Tickets will be issued by the driver at the boarding point and when additional passengers board along the way." Explaining the motive behind the introduction of the single-crew model, Kumar said, "KSRTC operates over 8,000 buses every day including ordinary and premium buses, covering over 28 lakh kilometers every day. The cost per kilometre includes the capital costs, interests, diesel, administrative costs, and conductor and driver costs which comes up to Rs 50 per km to operate our buses. Only if our earning per kilometre (EPKM) is more than Rs 50 per km, the bus corporation will make profits. However, out of 8,000 buses, around 5,000 buses are earning less than Rs 50 per km, owing to multiple factors including lesser number of passengers." While admitting that public bus corporations are supposed to serve people and not make money, the MD said the Corporation is always exploring ways to cut down costs to serve better without burdening passengers and one such move is the conductor-less model. "The KSRTC is able to save around Rs 10 per km. We have introduced this model only on routes with travel times of around five hours. For journeys longer than 5-6 hours, it will be challenging for the driver to manage without assistance," Kumar said.

The Rameshwaram Cafe opens new outlet in Indiranagar

ELNAH ANN ALWYN@Bengaluru: Bengaluru's iconic The Rameshwaram Cafe opened a new outlet in Indiranagar on Thursday. Occupying a 15,000-sq ft dining area, the restaurant can seat up to 400 guests. It looks to offer a traditional South Indian dining experience, with a curated menu of 120 dishes. "We started with six items on our menu, and now, we have more than 100 dishes. We have come a long way," said The Rameshwaram Cafe Co-founder and CEO Raghavendra Rao. The new outlet has introduced a range of exclusive offerings too, including jodi masala dosa, chirotti, tambuti, and rasam idli. "Bengalureans have loved and accepted The Rameshwaram Cafe," Raghavendra added.Echoing a similar sentiment, The Rameshwaram Cafe Co-founder and Managing Director Divya Raghavendra Rao acknowledged that the unwavering support from patrons has been a key factor in their success. "Irrespective of any situation, we have always enjoyed support. Even after unexpected events, we had immense support from our customers," she added.Raghavendra emphasised the restaurant's mission to celebrate the diverse flavours of South India. "Rameshwaram is not just one particular state; it's a culmination of all states of South India -- Karnataka, Kerala, Andhra Pradesh, Telangana, and Tamil Nadu. We want to bring it all together and develop this culture globally. Next year, we will be opening an outlet in Dubai as well," he informed.

MADAVARA-NAGASANDRA EXTN

FROM 0 TO 15K, PASSENGERS HAVE A GOOD RUN

S LALITHA @Bengaluru

THE much awaited Metro operations from Madavara to Nagasandra had a rather strange beginning on Thursday, with not a single passenger travelling on its maiden run from Platform 2 of Madavara station at 5am. There was a lone security staffer in the train, waiting to welcome the public. The second trip had two passengers and patronage gradually picked up during the day. The first train which terminated at Madavara had 15 passengers, but by 7pm, 11,093 people had made use of the Green Line extension.

The sudden announcement on Wednesday regarding the launch of Reach-3C could have been one reason for the sluggish start. However, morning travellers accidentally found out about the extension.

Auditor Lakshmi Narasimhaiah was the first passenger to board the second train departing from Madavara. He was on his way to catch a bus to Kolar. Delighted at being an early bird, he said, "I am the first passenger and am really happy about it. I no longer need to travel up to Nagasandra to use the Metro."

For residents of Prestige Jindal City complex, Madavara station is a luxury at their doorsteps. Resident Bheemesh Ganekar, who boarded a train at Chikkabidarakallu, said he had been waiting for months for this. CP Nataraj, former Gram Panchayat member at Madanayakanahalli, visited Madavara station just to get a glimpse and first-hand information of train operations. He told TNIE, "Completion of this stretch was delayed by four years. I did not travel but came to check if they had begun operations."

On the first train which terminated at Madavara were HR Giridhar, wife Thejaswini and five-year-old Pragna. Giridhar said, "We got back from Tirupati this morning with no idea about the extended operations. We planned to alight at Nagasandra and take a cab. This is a lovely surprise."

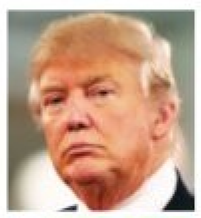
Sunak, Akshata sip coffee in city cafe

Pic: X @nBangalorePost

Bengaluru : Former UK prime minister Rishi Sunak, and his wife Akshata Murthy, were spotted at a well-known coffee shop in Jayanagar on Wednesday. The couple, visiting the city for official reasons, were seen entering the cafe and making their way to the counter to place their order. Customers quickly noticed the couple's understated presence at the cafe, and many shared their excitement online about seeing them in person. On Tuesday, Sunak and Akshata, along with her parents, NR Narayana Murthy and Sudha Murty, also visited the Guru Raghavendra Mutt in Jayanagar. While at the temple, Sudha gave money to Sunak and Akshata as offerings. The moment went viral on social media, with many users calling it the "relatable peak Indian mom" moment, praising her for following Indian customs.

'Trump's presidency will strengthen India-US ties'



Bengaluru: Hailing Donald Trump's victory in the US elections, Biocon Chairperson Kiran Mazumdar-Shaw said Trump's presidency will strengthen ties between India and the US, and stated that the Indian pharma sector is well placed to play a vital role in the US healthcare sector. "I am confident that Donald Trump's Presidency will lead to stronger ties between India and the US, unlocking the immense potential for growth and innovation, particularly in technology, energy and healthcare," she said. Stating that the Indian pharma sector has a proven track record of delivering affordable and high-quality medicines, Kiran Mazumdar-Shaw said it is poised to play a vital role in the US healthcare sector as the Trump campaign was resounding in its message to 'Make America healthy again'. "Enhanced US-India relations under Trump's administration could create new growth avenues for the Indian IT sector, driving tech innovation and deepening engagement in America's evolving digital landscape," she said.

BDA recovers property worth Rs 12 cr at Peenya Industrial Area

Bengaluru: In a dawn to dusk operation conducted at Peenya Industrial Area second stage on Thursday, the Bangalore Development Authority demolished unauthorised temporary constructions and recovered its property worth Rs 12 crore. An official release said that unauthorised sheds had come up on 12,000 square feet in site no. 14 & 15 of survey no. 79 in Peenya village of Yeshwantpur Hobli. An official involved in the demolition told TNIE that the land was encroached by slum dwellers who put up nearly 15 sheds here long ago. "We got the nod from the Commissioner and the Engineer Officer to go ahead with the demolition today. People were evacuated from three sheds before the demolition. BDA has put up a board staking claim to the property," he added.

PETER VIDAL

08th November: You probably read about the discoveries of ice on Mars, and you may know of my interest in life on other planets. Whether there is life on Mars right now, we cannot say. But we should be ninety-nine percent certain that it flourished in the past, when conditions were more benign. If there are surviving organisms, they are probably very basic, although not necessarily harmless!

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
You're not quite sure what's happening, so no surprises there! You'll be mulling over certain secret fears and worries, but the general mood of the times is in your favour. Helpful circumstances will boost your confidence, but eventual success is down to you.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
If you have a choice then it may be to spend your time putting in some extra work, either directed towards achieving success in your career or fulfilment in a personal hobby. Extra practical assistance is necessary to counter your impulsive tendencies.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
Current planetary patterns should be keeping you on the go, and it looks very much as if you'll have the chance to experiment with new ways of managing affairs at home. Time-saving devices and gadgets could revolutionise your life, while more experienced people should have the answers you need. First, though, you have to ask.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
Life is looking up - at last. You should make an early start if you want to make the most of today's exceptionally lively planetary picture. This is a perfect moment to get out of the rut you've been in and instill a renewed sense of adventure into your life.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
Energetic planets make for an interesting day all round. Don't be dismayed if you're out of step with a partner, as differences of opinion on important matters are almost inevitable under the current relationship between Venus and Saturn.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
You can't live without other people - you know that better than anyone! You must pay greater attention to partners and joint activities, and allow yourself to rely on friends to help you cope if you've bitten off more than you can chew. There'll be little time to relax.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
Whether you are truly prepared or not, you're entering one of the busiest times of the year. Don't be surprised if social engagements are altered at the last minute, or if friends turn out to be not what they seem. They might just be pulling the wool over your eyes.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
You are happy for most arrangements to stay as they are, yet changes of plan will be more than welcome if you've recently allowed yourself to sink into a rather pressurised routine. A financial plan may require further scrutiny, and your judgement could be open to question.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
A number of domestic disagreements could add spice to a lively period, and this is an excellent time to start acting over promised home improvements, including speculation in the property market if that's where your interests lie. Keep other people up to date though - especially if you require assistance.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
General trends now, and over the coming days, continue to be mildly disruptive, although there's no reason why this shouldn't be an enjoyable and stimulating period. If considering career moves, think about the financial consequences. Be kind to younger people. You never know when you might need their help!

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
Your favourite friends and loved ones will soon come to appreciate your generosity of spirit, and any cash you care to splash out will be warmly received. Disagreements about money will take place in an atmosphere of goodwill and hope for the future.

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
The presence of powerful planets in passionate regions of your chart brings a warm glow to all events, but is also making you prone to over-confidence and impatience. Take the initiative if you can and inject enthusiasm into an otherwise lacklustre enterprise.

CABBIE'S PLOT TO FIX PARAMOUR IN GANJA CASE BOOMERANGS

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

A cab driver's conspiracy to put his paramour and her newfound boyfriend in trouble by fixing them in a drug-peddling case boomeranged on him, leading to his arrest. The driver, who was in an illicit relationship with a specially-abled woman, grew envious after she started seeing another man. As all his plans to separate them failed, he came up with a plan of getting them fixed in a ganja case.

On the morning of October 21, Girish (45), a resident of Kurubarahalli, called the police control room and gave a tip that ganja was being sold by some persons near a school for children with special needs in Malleswaram. He also shared the registration number of the vehicle used by the suspects.

Following an alert from the control room, a team of Malleswaram police rushed to the spot and seized 125 grams of ganja kept in the said vehicle. "However, there were no drug peddlers and the owner of the vehicle was traced and it turned out to be a specially-abled woman, who worked as an ayah in the school, where the vehicle was parked. When she was questioned, she had no clue about the recovered ganja," a source said.

Further investigations revealed that she was in close contact with a person, identified as Karthik, and he was also summoned for questioning and his role was also ruled out. "However, information gathered through technical assistance established that she was in contact with Girish earlier, who had passed on the message to the control room. When inquired, it was found that Girish, who came to drop his child to the school, had become close to the ayah, who had deserted her husband, and was having an affair with her. From the last few months, she was avoiding him as she developed interest in Karthik," an officer said.

Girish, who could not digest this, plotted to teach her and Karthik a lesson by placing ganja in her vehicle. "Information was gathered about Girish and he was arrested. He admitted that he had also contacted Karthik's wife and told her about her husband's affair, but she was least bothered. Hence, he decided to fix them in the ganja case and planted the contraband in her vehicle. When questioned about how he had access to the ganja, he revealed that a passenger had forgotten it in his cab and he used it to get his paramour fixed in a false case," the officer said, adding that Girish has been booked under the NDPS Act and remanded in judicial custody.

Two schools targeted by hoax bomb email

BENGALURU: Two prestigious city-based schools were targets of a bomb threat email on Thursday, which was finally declared to be an elaborate hoax. A thorough check by the police and bomb squad ensued, which found no explosives on the premises. The Cubbon Park police have registered a case. The police said Bishop Cotton Girls' School on St Mark's Road and Bishop Cotton Boys' School in Shantalanagar received the email on Thursday morning. However, the staff noticed the email only in the evening and alerted the police. The police, along with the Bomb Detection and Disposal Squad (BDDS), the dog squad, and the Anti-Sabotage Check (ASC) team, arrived at both locations and conducted checks. The threat was deemed a hoax, as no explosives were found. The email, which was sent to both the schools, claimed that a bomb had been planted at their premises. Further investigations are on.

'A lack of proper probe delays trials'

"MANY cases take 3-5 years to come up for trial, by which time witnesses often forget crucial details, leading to inconsistencies in their testimonies. This delay allows many accused to take advantage and secure acquittals. The delay in trial is mainly due to insufficient number of judges and courts, as well as lengthy legal procedures. Frequent adjournments requested by lawyers contribute to the backlog of cases," Ramesh said.

Highlighting the need for quality investigation, he said this will help improve the conviction rate. If investigators gather strong oral, documentary, circumstantial ,forensic, and medical evidence, they will help avoid delays in court and help in convictions. The former state police chief stated that witness protection is not prioritised, even though witness intimidation and witnesses turning hostile are common issues.

"An exclusive witness protection law is needed. Witnesses are often coerced or bribed, yet false testimonies rarely lead to punishment, which undermines the legal process. To improve the conviction rate, the number of fast-track courts should be increased to expedite trials," Ramesh said, Rajalaxmi Ankalagi, an advocate and activist, said that a lack of proper investigation and insufficient evidence often lead to prolonged trials. In most of the rape cases, the accused are victims' fathers, grandfathers, uncles or known persons. "Rape can happen to even to minors, both boys and girls. Victims may not report the crime to the police for fear, especially if the accused is a known person. Social stigma is another reason for this. Some cases end up in compromises owing to family prestige," she added.

"A delay in trial can impact the victim's mental health, as recalling the incident may cause trauma. The number of fast-track courts should be increased, and the existing courts should dispose of the cases speedily. Additionally, courts should consider audio and video recording of statements of the victims and the accused, which could then be transcribed, reducing time consumption, as judges currently have to provide oral explanations and record them in writing. Overall, there is an urgent need to overhaul the whole process of complaint registration, evidence collection and trial itself," she said.

Another senior police officer said that the reason for the poor conviction rate is false cases, especially when consensual acts are later reported as rape.

Drunk doctor, ward boy hurt woman while inserting cannula

ENS @ Bengaluru

A 24-year-old woman, who had visited a private hospital for treatment, had an unpleasant experience after a doctor and a ward boy tried inserting a cannula into her hand multiple times, having failed to locate a vein. Both doctor and ward boy were allegedly inebriated at the time. Accordingly, the patient has lodged a complaint in this regard with the Kumaraswamy Layout police.

According to the complaint, Sneha Bhat, who had a high fever and was suffering from sleeplessness, visited the hospital near Vasanthapura Main Road in Konanakunte on November 3, for treatment. Dr Pradeep and ward boy Mahendra, who were allegedly drunk, attempted to insert a cannula for drips into her hand, at least four times, and also allegedly misbehaved with her. The experience left her in pain and discomfort.

Meanwhile, the police have registered a Non-Cognizable Report (NCR), stating that the case, involving medical implications, needs to be transferred to the Karnataka Medical Board. "Since the issue involves potential negligence and misconduct in a medical setting, the medical board will handle it," the police said, adding that Dr Pradeep had recommended intravenous treatment for Sneha's condition. When Mahendra attempted to set up the drips, he reportedly struggled to locate a vein, resulting in an uncomfortable situation for the complainant.

COUPLE GROWS WEED IN POTS, POSTS ON FB, LANDS IN NET

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE

SADASHIVANAGAR police arrested a couple for growing ganja (weed) plants in flower pots. K Sagar Gurung, 37, and his wife Urmila Kumari, 38, from Sikkim, who live on MSR Nagar 3rd Main, runs a fast food joint.

Urmila Kumari, who is active on social media and has posted videos and photographs on her Facebook page, recently posted a video and pictures of various plants growing in flower pots in her house in MSR Nagar. Flower pots with decorative plants were kept on the balcony. Among 17 pots, they had grown ganja in two pots. In her post, Urmila had even revealed that she was growing ganja, and her social media account followers brought the matter before police. During questioning, the couple is said to have confessed to growing ganja to sell and make fast money.

Police said the couple lived on the first floor, and the fast food joint was on the ground floor. They were arrested on Tuesday afternoon, and police recovered ganja plants weighing around 54 grams.

Videos, pics posted

When police arrived, a relative of the accused who was in the fast food joint, alerted Urmila. By the time police entered their house, she had plucked the plants and thrown them in the dustbin.

"We are still checking if they are active peddlers. The couple's mobile phones, which have been seized, will be analysed to get more information. When the police team raided their house, the couple denied having grown ganja plants. They had plucked the plants and thrown them in the dustbin. However, a few leaves were still inside the pot. Initially, Urmila Kumari denied posting any such videos or pictures, but when we checked her phone, it was confirmed that she had posted the video and photographs on October 18," said an officer.

The couple was released on station bail. Police booked an NDPS case against them.

K SHIVA KUMAR @Mysuru

THE November 13 bypolls to three Assembly constituencies in Karnataka is indeed a matter of prestige for the Big 3 political parties. But it is a bigger battle for Chief Minister Siddaramaiah who is entangled in controversies involving the allotment of sites by MUDA and alleged irregularities in the Karnataka Maharshi Valmiki Scheduled Tribes Development Corporation Ltd.

In Channapatna in the Old Mysuru region, there is a high-voltage battle between the Gowda family and the DK Brothers. Former PM HD Deve Gowda, Union Minister and state JDS chief HD Kumaraswamy, DyCM DK Shivakumar, and his brother, former Bangalore Rural MP DK Suresh, are campaigning extensively. While the NDA has fielded Nikhil Kumaraswamy, son of Kumaraswamy and grandson of Deve Gowda, the Congress has fielded former BJP leader CP Yogeshwara. Both the Gowda family and the DK Brothers are sweating it out to win Channapatna to claim the title of the Vokkaliga leadership, the prominent community in the region.

Gowda, 92, has entered the campaign arena alongside BJP strongman and former CM BS Yediyurappa to ensure Nikhil's victory. This will be Nikhil's third electoral battle after losing the 2023 Assembly elections from Ramanagara and the 2019 Lok Sabha polls from Mandya. Nikhil's opponent Yogeshwara had recently joined the Congress from the BJP.

In Shiggaon in North Karnataka, MP and former CM Basavaraj Bommai is campaigning to ensure not just his son, Bharat Bommai's victory, but also to retain his hold on his home turf and strengthen his position in the BJP. Bharat is making his debut in electoral politics.

In Ballari's Sandur constituency, MP E Tukaram is campaigning for his wife and Congress candidate Annapoorna. The battle in Sandur, a mining region, is a Herculean one for Tukaram, as his wife's opponents are BJP leaders Janardhana Reddy and B Sriramulu. Any setback for the Congress in the Sandur bypoll could give scope for the reemergence of Reddy as a prominent leader in the Ballari region after nearly a decade.

Personally, a loss in the three bypolls could cause bigger damage for Siddaramaiah and his leadership at a time when he is under relentless attack by the Opposition JDS and BJP over various issues, including the MUDA and ST Corporation rows and now the alleged corruption in the Excise Department. Though Siddaramaiah has claimed that he has done no wrong, the Opposition is seeking his resignation. "A loss for the Congress will be considered a referendum against Siddaramaiah's leadership," opined a political expert.

Siddaramaiah not only faces attacks from the Opposition, but there are many within his own party and cabinet who are nurturing ambitions to become the CM. This may put pressure on the Congress high command, which in turn would affect governance and weaken Siddaramaiah's position in the Congress. A Congress victory in Channapatna will send out a strong message that the Vokkaligas who ditched the party in the recent Lok Sabha elections are backing it once again, which in turn would be a boost for Shivakumar, the state Congress chief.

Though the bypolls will not have any bearing on the Congress position in the Assembly (as it has 136 MLAs), a win in all the three seats will further cement Siddaramaiah's position not just as CM but also within his party. A victory means that Siddaramaiah can claim that he has the support of Vokkaligas and Lingayats along with his traditional AHINDA voters.

As far as the NDA is concerned, a Congress win may give room for fissure in the alliance between JDS and BJP.

ASSEMBLY BY ELECTION 2024 DECIDE

This poll season, Iggaluru dam is everyone's project

ASHWINI M SRIPAD @Bengaluru

IGGALURU dam in Channapatna, a lifeline for thousands of farmers in the taluk, has turned into a bypoll issue. The project has filled up over 100 lakes, helping thousands of farmers take up agricultural activities.

Iggaluru dam, standing 1234.4 metres long with a gross capacity of 5.15 million cubic metres, was inaugurated in 1996. It was built across the Shimsha river, a tributary of the Cauvery. Lakes in and around the taluk are getting water from this reservoir under the lift irrigation project, and farmers are growing ragi, paddy and even sugarcane. Now, all parties are claiming credit for the project, and trying to woo voters in the name of the dam.

The Channapatna bypoll is a prestige battle for all three parties -- JDS, BJP and Congress -- with NDA candidate Nikhil Kumaraswamy, son of Union Minister HD Kumaraswamy, contesting against BJP turncoat CP Yogeshwara on a Congress ticket. Deputy CM DK Shivakumar, who is from Ramanagara district, is leading the fight against Nikhil.

Yogeshwara is a five-time MLA, winning in 1999 (as Independent), 2004, 2008 (Congress), 2011 bypoll (BJP) and 2013 (Samajwadi Party). He lays claim to the name 'Bhagiratha' of Channapatna for filling up lakes from Iggaluru dam. Yogeshwara has been mentioning it in his speeches often.

Former PM HD Deve Gowda, who has been campaigning for grandson Nikhil for a couple of days, taunted Yogeshwara, saying, "But it is I who constructed Iggaluru dam, for which our government had released Rs 150 crore. In fact, I inaugurated it during my tenure and people here are witness. I ensured that water reached the lakes," Gowda told voters at a rally recently. Iggaluru dam is also known as Deve Gowda barrage.

Meanwhile, BJP is also taking credit as some grants was released during DV Sadananda Gowda's tenure as CM from 2011-2012.

Won't rest until PM Modi gives nod for Mekedatu, says Gowda

BENGALURU: Former Prime Minister and JDS patriarch HD Deve Gowda has reignited the emotional Mekedatu issue, raising the stakes with a bold declaration that he won't rest until Prime Minister Modi approves the long-contested project. Gowda's call comes after Congress' high-profile padayatra spread over many days to assert their dedication to the project. With this statement, the big question is if Gowda has stolen the Congress' thunder. DyCM and state Congress chief DK Shivakumar dismissed it calling it a political stunt ahead of the bypolls. "If the JDs had been serious about Mekedatu issue, they should have done something. Until now they have done nothing," Shivakumar said. Speaking at an election rally in Channapatna in support of NDA candidate Nikhil Kumaraswamy, Gowda pledged, "Before I draw my last breath, I will secure Modi's approval for Mekedatu." "I built the Iggalur dam, even if some dismiss it as minor. Becoming Prime Minister was fate, and I will appeal directly to Modi, underscoring the urgency of Mekedatu. He's heard my appeals multiple times," he added.

Vokkaliga netas refrain from 'DKS next CM' call in Ch'patna

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

IN a significant turn of events, Congress leaders belonging to the Vokkaliga community who had stated that Deputy Chief Minister DK Shivakumar would go on to become the CM, should the Grand Old Party win the Channapatna bypoll, have now backtracked from this approach. The entry of former Prime Minister HD Deve Gowda, considered the undisputed leader of the community, campaigning extensively for his grandson and NDA candidate Nikhil Kumaraswamy, seems to have had its effect.

Vokkaliga MLAs were also cautious about their political future, since most of them managed to win the Assembly polls with the backing of AHINDA voters, owing to Chief Minister Siddramaiah's influence.

Last week, MLAs HC Balakrishna of Magadi, KM Shivalinge Gowda of Arasikere, and former MLA MC Ashwath had reportedly campaigned in the constituency, advising the people of Channapatna to vote for Congress candidate CP Yogeshwara, considering that it could catapult Shivakumar to the CM's post. The strategy was reportedly to polarise Vokkaliga community votes in favour of Yogeshwara.

However, Balakrishna on Thursday alleged that correlating Channapatna with Shivakumar's political future, was a conspiracy by the rival camp to divert the backward classes' vote from the Congress candidate. The media also misinterpreted the issue, he added.

Targeted for criticising Modi and his policies, says Siddaramaiah

KIRAN BALANNANAVAR
@ Bommaghatta (Ballari district)

CHIEF Minister Siddaramaiah on Thursday said that he has been implicated wrongly in the alleged MUDA site allotment scam as he criticises Prime Minister Narendra Modi and his policies. Addressing a public rally to garner votes for Sandur Congress candidate Annapoorna, Siddaramaiah said, "I highlighted the fake promises made by PM Modi, such as the creation of 2 crore jobs annually and depositing Rs 15 lakh in people's accounts. So, the BJP is targeting me. They are using Central agencies like the Income Tax Department and Enforcement of Directorate to scare me. But I have done no wrong and, hence, I am not afraid of anything."

Siddaramaiah also said that the remaining three-and-a-half years of the present government in the state will be his government, indirectly hinting that there will not be any change of guard. "We came to power with 136 MLAs and have been providing good governance for the last one-and-a-half years. We will continue with our good work," he added. He also took a dig at Modi, saying that the latter claims that he will uproot corruption from the country but is silent on politicians like Gali Janaradhana Reddy, who was arrested in the mining scam, joining the BJP. "PM Modi has no moral right to speak about the Congress and our governments," he said.

He also took to task the Maharashtra BJP for allegedly spreading false information about Karnataka's Gruha Lakshmi scheme. "More than 1.8 crore women of Karnataka get Rs 2,000 each month. All our guarantees are a success. There is no question of discontinuing any scheme," the CM added.

The CM further said that MP E Tukaram sacrificed his MLA post after he asked him to contest the recent Lok Sabha elections. "Now, it is time to elect his wife, Annapoorna. The BJP is creating unnecessary confusion among the voters by raking up the Waqf issue," the Chief Minister further said.

'Even ASI monuments have not been spared'

HE said while the state government has issued a temporary directive to the Revenue Department to halt such conversions, the issue of tampering with land records and mutations persists. "This is a serious issue, especially for farmers, who are now at risk of losing their lands. Properties at various places are being declared as Waqf lands without proper documents. Once the tribunal gives its ruling pertaining to these cases, the affected individuals are left with no recourse," he added. Addressing the agitating farmers and BJP workers outside the DC's office in Vijayapura, Pal said there had been a 38 % rise in notices issued to farmers in Karnataka in the last two months after the formation of the JPC. The Waqf Board has arbitrary powers which have become a major contention and a matter of concern for farmers and authorities of Hindu religious institutions, Pal said and added that even ASI monuments have not been spared by the board. He claimed that the board has issued notices in connection with over 53 protected monuments, including Gol Gumbaz and Bidar Fort that are under the ASI. Responding to Congress leaders' objection to his visit to the state, Pal said he has the authority to visit any place in the country to elicit the views of stakeholders as JPC chairman and MP. "The Congress should welcome the decision of the Centre, which is planning to introduce radical changes and make Waqf law more people-friendly and transparent," he said. He said the Union government will come up with a robust, transparent and comprehensive Waqf Act. The JPC has been eliciting views and suggestions from all stakeholders. So far, it has received over one crore suggestions from the people through the portal. "I request all leaders of farmers in Karnataka and BJP's elected representatives to send a delegation to Delhi. Farmers can directly interact with JPC and voice their concerns. Let me also assure you at this point that the JPC will incorporate all their concerns in its the report," he said. Karnataka, mainly Vijayapura, has become the epicentre of the issue, he added.

WILL GATHER INFO BOTH FOR & AGAINST WAQF BILL: JPC CHIEF

PRAMODKUMAR VAIDYA @ Hubballi

AMID the controversy over the Waqf Board's notices to farmers and others and the Karnataka Congress government's reservations about his visit, Jagadambika Pal, chairman, Joint Parliamentary Committee (JPC) on the Waqf Amendment Bill, 2024, reached Hubballi on Thursday.

Pal, addressing the concerns of various delegations, blamed the State Government for fuelling the controversy regarding the conversion of agricultural lands, mutts, and temple lands into Waqf properties.

Pal assured the delegates that their concerns would be included in the JPC's report, which will be submitted to the Speaker of the Lok Sabha.

Pal's visit comes against the backdrop of growing apprehension among farmers, religious leaders, and heads of mutts in the region, over land being converted to Waqf property without coming to their notice.

BJP fact-finding committee head and MP Govind Karjol submits a report to JPC Chairman Jagadambika Pal in Hubballi on Thursday | D HEMANTH

JPC member and Bangalore South MP Tejasvi Surya had previously pressed for Pal to visit Karnataka to assess the situation firsthand. However, the State Government opposed the visit, with Waqf Minister BZ Zameer Ahmed Khad calling it "illegal."

Despite the opposition, Pal proceeded with his visit, and met nearly 70 delegations, including Deputy Leader of the Opposition in the Legislative Assembly Arvind Bellad.

Simultaneously, a fact-finding committee led by BJP MP Govind Karjol submitted its report to the JPC Chairman. The delegations also urged Pal to seek remedial measures in the report.

On Zameer Ahmed Khad's criticism of his visit, Pal responded that given the gravity of the situation as conveyed by Tejasvi Surya, he felt it was necessary to visit the region.

"The purpose of this visit is to gather information, both for and against the Waqf Amendment Bill. The full committee has been travelling across the country to meet stakeholders on all sides of the issue," Pal elaborated.

"This issue emerged in Karnataka just a month ago, and we will ensure that all relevant details are included in our report," he added.

Mutt hall, farmland, graveyard are Waqf land, farmers worry

RAGHOTTAM KOPPAR @Gadag

IT has come to light that the dining hall (prasad nilaya) of Gadag's 500-year-old Annadaneshwar Mutt, farmland and a graveyard are Waqf properties, prompting villagers and residents of Naregal town in Gadag district to visit the tahsildar's office to check their land records.

Many farmers have learnt that the mutt hall in Naregal town, nearly 50 acres of land near Naregal, and revenue department land of Hunasikatti village, which was a graveyard, has been converted to Waqf land. The villagers said they have not been allowed to enter the graveyard since 2019, after a board was put up that it was 'Chikkanaragund Malan Waqf property'. Annadan Vijay Vidya Prasarak Committee's 410/B property is in the name of Rahman Shah Vali Dargah under Waqf Board. The devotees went to meet Ron MLA GS Patil to discuss the issue, but he was out of town and promised to get the details and take action soon. Many farmers have started checking their documents, and news of Waqf property records has created a sense of fear among those dependent on small parcels of land for their livelihood.

Laxmeshwar town's Desai Bana farmers have protested that land records of 50 acres show it is Waqf property, and complained to the tahsildar that some survey numbers of the town come under the Waqf Board. They have sought help from the administration as nobody is benefiting from government schemes or is able to sell their land because of the mention of Waqf in land records. Annadaneshwar Mutt's Muppin Baavalinga seer said the mutt has a history of 500 years but its dining hall records show it is Waqf land. Devotees were upset to learn that it was named Waqf land. A Gadag district administration official said, "There are many complaints coming about Waqf and we will soon help farmers. They don't need to worry about it."

Brother of accused told to pay Rs 1.1cr for linking politician to crime

R SIVAKUMAR @Chennai

EXPRESSING concern over character assassination of individuals on social media with no restriction, the Madras High Court on Thursday ordered Dhanapal — brother of the prime accused Kanagaraj (deceased) in Kodanad heist-cum-murder case — to pay ₹1.1 crore as damages to Edappadi K Palaniswami for linking the AIADMK general secretary with the crime.

Justice R M T Teekaa Raman passed the order on a defamation suit filed by Palaniswami against Dhanapal and granted a permanent injunction restraining him from making defamatory statements in the future. "It is a sorry state of affairs that in the age of social media, desecration of the reputation of public figures has become child's play. Anyone can open a social media account and post the messages; thousands of likes and dislikes are received, however, in the process, the reputation of the man who is targeted becomes, sadly, mud ...," the judge said.

He noted that social media platforms, instead of aiding people with positive data for human evolution and better living standards, now offer a "fertile ground" for the mushrooming of this tendency. "Further, in modern times, social media platforms, for all their unquestionable and undeniable benefits coupled with their indispensability, come in a combo, with this kind of sordid sequelae," the judge said.

Palaniswami had filed the suit in the wake of interviews given by Dhanapal on August 24, September 5 and 7, 2023, linking the politician to the murder that occurred in 2017 at the Kodanad bungalow owned by late CM J Jayalalithaa. Senior counsel S R Rajagopal appeared for Palaniswami. Dhanapal was declared ex-parte as he was not represented by a lawyer.

MUDA TO CANCEL ALL 50:50 SITES

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Mysuru

THE Mysuru Urban Development Authority (MUDA) held a meeting after a year and decided to cancel the allotment of sites under the 50:50 scheme, triggering panic among allottees and buyers. In a meeting presided over by MUDA chairman G Lakshmikanth Reddy on Thursday, BJP MLA T S Srivatsa accused rampant corruption in the allotment of sites under the 50:50 scheme. He urged the chairman to cancel the allotment and take back the sites from the allottees.

He said the meeting to discuss the issue has passed a resolution in this regard. Meanwhile, Chamaraja MLA K Harish Gowda said the sites allotted under the 50:50 scheme must be withdrawn as Chief Minister Siddaramaiah's wife Parvathi has returned the sites and advised not to wait for others to return.

Chamundeshwari MLA G T Devegowda said members opinions should be taken into consideration and all sites allotted illegally must be withdrawn first. BJP MLC A H Vishwanath said the 50:50 site scam has exposed that the MUDA is not in favour of the shelterless. He too pressed for cancellation of sites. Meanwhile, MUDA commissioner Raghunandhan apprised members on the investigation carried out by the investigating agencies in the MUDA scam.

MUDA will accept the plea to cancel allotment of sites under the 50:50 scheme. The sites can be confiscated after the Justice P N Desai Commission probing the MUDA scam files its report

No smoking, chewing paan in K'taka govt offices

Bengaluru: The state government has banned its employees from smoking cigarettes and chewing paan or gutka on government office premises. In a circular to officials, the Department of Personnel and Administrative Reforms (DPAR) warned employees of strict action if they are found using tobacco products in government offices. Signboards in this regard should be put up in every government office, it stated. The circular noted that though there is a ban on smoking cigarettes and other tobacco products in public places, smoking and consumption of tobacco products continue on government office premises. Henceforth, such violations will not be tolerated, the circular said. ENS

HYDRAA chief learns a trick or two from Bengaluru's lake revival strategy

MOHAMMED YACOOB @Bengaluru

BENGALURU'S resilient approach in mitigation of floods and restoration of lakes like Jakkur and Yelahanka impressed Hyderabad Disaster Response and Asset Protection Agency (HYDRAA) Commissioner A V Ranganath.

Ranganath, who has cracked down hard on the land mafia and encroachers in Hyderabad by demolishing structures on lakes and drains, visited the Karnataka State Natural Disaster Monitor Centre (KSNDMC) on Thursday and sought details of flood mitigation plans as well as restoration of lakes by the Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP).

HYDRAA Commissioner AV Ranganath (left) at Jakkur Lake in Bengaluru

He said some lakes have been restored in Bengaluru and it is inspiring. The official also said post demolition and removal of encroachment on lakes, parks and nalas at Greater Hyderabad Municipal Corporation (GHMC), efforts will be made to emulate Bengaluru's lake protection management.

Ranganath said, "We have heard that with respect to disaster management and lake protection, Bengaluru has some of the best practises. We visited KSNDMC in Yelahanka and understood the systems and technology used, and we will emulate these. The lake rejuvenation work is commendable."

On pressure while dealing with the removal of encroachments on lakes, the HYDRAA chief said there is a lot of freedom and the removal of encroachments from waterbodies is being done in ernest.

He said "constructive destruction" is being taken up to restore waterbodies to their past glory.

Woman pretended to be dead

KUSHAL said Archana's husband's friend Santosh also from Krishnarajapuram was in a relationship with her. Santosh's wife Bindu used to fight with him frequently over his relationship with Archana. Bindu hatched a plan to kill Archana and contacted one Satheesh Reddy, who has some criminal cases against him. She gave 'supari' to him to kill Archana.

She not only transferred money to his bank account, but also gave him some cash as part of her 'supari'.

Accordingly, Reddy met Archana in Krishnarajapuram stating that he is keen on learning yoga. After a few days, Reddy took her to Bagalur in the city in his car and assaulted her along with three others. Archana, who fell unconscious, pretended to be dead.

Believing that she died of injuries she sustained, Reddy and his friends removed the ornaments she was wearing and dumped her in the Dibbur forest. A police team arrested Reddy and later Bindu, Nagendra Reddy, Ramana Reddy and Ravi. Cash and ornaments taken from Archana were recovered. During investigation, it was revealed that the car, which used to commit the crime, was stolen from Koppal.

SOCIETY MUST PUSH GOVTS TO PRIORITISE POLLUTION FIGHT

THE winter pollution in the national capital has become synonymous with the burning of crop residues by farmers in the adjoining states of Punjab, Haryana and Uttar Pradesh. But the elephant in the sooty room is vehicular pollution. Studies show vehicular pollution accounts for more pollutants in Delhi than anything else. Its contribution to poisoning the air far exceeds that of stubble burning, construction dust and firecrackers. The measures taken by the government, including an early phasing out of vehicles and introduction of stricter norms, have clearly been inadequate. The other big pollutant seeping into our soil and water is the flow of untreated sewage and industrial effluents into the Yamuna, once considered Delhi's lifeline. Together, these are the biggest polluters of Delhi's air and water.

The frothy, toxic water of the river stinks of a monumental failure of the city's government. The rise in the toxicity of Yamuna water has been so alarming that the Delhi High Court had to refuse permission to perform Chhath puja in the river. For years, these twin challenges of air and water pollution have posed a grave threat to public health, environmental sustainability, and the quality of life for millions. Frequent judicial rebukes have failed to move governments. The courts have not just reprimanded authorities, but also issued stringent orders to catalyse action. The National Green Tribunal has pointed out that the pollution in Yamuna remains unchecked and has termed the situation "extremely disappointing".

Delhi's government and municipal bodies have failed to treat sewage and industrial effluents to the extent required. There is an urgent need to increase treatment capacity and set up monitoring stations to check the flow of waste water into the river. Tackling vehicular pollution needs long-term planning. It requires enhanced public transport infrastructure and urban planning that cuts travel time. Transitioning to cleaner fuels and electric mobility needs a stronger government push. Increasing green cover must be taken up on priority. The Delhi Ridge—the lungs of the city—is shrinking and in need of protection. It is time for civil society to bring pollution to the centre-stage of civic discussion and compel government bodies to prioritise effective mitigation strategies. Delhi ranks among the world's most polluted cities. Its status as a liveable city hangs precariously in balance. The time to act is now.

TECH PARK BOOST WILL STRESS BENGALURU MORE

THE ministry of electronics and information technology has listed 89 tech parks to be created or expanded in Bengaluru, eyeing a major infrastructure push aimed at bringing in foreign and domestic investments. The list is timed just ahead of the November 19-21 Bengaluru Tech Summit 2024. The announcement has boosted the hopes of businesses and politicians who are tickled pink at the prospect of more investments attracted by so many tech parks—considered the biggest such initiative.

However, let's not miss the citizens' point. Bengaluru, which enjoys sobriquets like the IT or science capital of India, is already bursting at its seams—desperately stressed in terms of transport and infrastructure facilities. The fact that all these tech parks are within city limits would not help that reality. A major concern is the plan would add substantially to the city's booming population and rapidly rising number of vehicles already jostling amid inadequate road space. As of September 2024, Bengaluru had 1.20 crore vehicles—more than 1,100 cars per kilometre of road. Urban planners have been screaming for years that the solution to decongest Bengaluru is to establish satellite towns around the city teeming with 1.40 crore people. These satellite towns can allow a proliferation of tech parks with live-work-play spaces, and act as magnets to decongest Bengaluru. Unfortunately, what is being unravelled is the very opposite of what has been advocated as a smarter solution.

Pre-1980s Bangalore lacked any semblance of city planning, just as Bengaluru does now. It was all of a sudden that a big town like Bangalore transformed into a mega city like Bengaluru. Now, plans perceived as solutions—like underground tunnel roads to decongest on-surface ones—keep popping up after the city witnessed a flyover boom. The realisation that all these measures are failing—or will fail—to decongest is only beginning to dawn now. Adding road space to accommodate more vehicles would only add to the congestion in a city that is infamous for its lack of traffic discipline.

The powers that be need to realise what Bengaluru needs is not an infra boost that attracts investments and people, but credible solutions to limit population growth so that the existing infrastructure is adequate for future sustenance.

QUICK TAKE

OF ANGELIC REVERSES

IT'S a case of poetic justice for judicated prose. The Delhi High Court recently disposed of a plea challenging a customs notification purportedly issued in 1988 banning the import of Salman Rushdie's novel, The Satanic Verses. The court noted that the government authorities, including the Central Board of Indirect Taxes and Customs, have not been able to produce the notification in over five years. So a book that was 'banned' before the authorities had read it could now be read by others because the authorities have seemingly misplaced their papers. It's an unexpected win for those against book bans, but a big gain for Rushdie fans in India.

States shouldn't lose political clout if they develop well. Yet, southern states now face financial victimisation and linguistic marginalisation. We need equitable solutions, not more babies

BETTER PILLS FOR SOUTHERN DISCOMFORT

SHASHI THAROOR

Fourth-term Lok Sabha MP from Thiruvananthapuram and the Sahitya Akademi winning author of 24 books, most recently Ambedkar: A Life

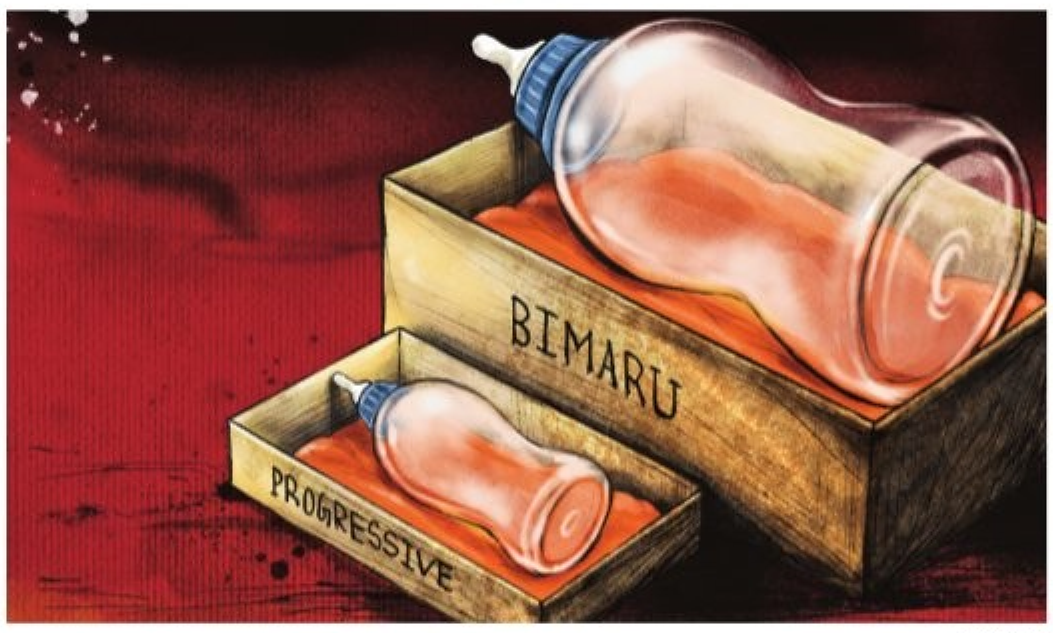
THE public calls by two southern chief ministers, Andhra Pradesh's Chandrababu Naidu and Tamil Nadu's M K Stalin—even if one may have been slightly tongue-in-cheek and the other seemingly in earnest—has once again brought focus on the imminent challenges facing the southern states from their declining populations.

There is no doubt that the population of the southern states has been growing much slower than that of the north for some decades, resulting in significant disparities. This has already had consequences in the award of the most recent Finance Commission, which has reduced the amount of central revenues being distributed to the southern states because of the increased weightage given to population in their calculations. Matters have come to a head with the imminence of the delayed 2021 census, which is now expected to conclude in 2026. Leaders in the south have suddenly woken up to the serious implications that a new census will have for their states.

While northern states such as Bihar, Jharkhand, Madhya Pradesh, Rajasthan and Uttar Pradesh had a decadal population growth of over 20 percent between 2001 and 2011, southern states like undivided Andhra Pradesh and Telangana, Kerala, Karnataka and Tamil Nadu grew at less than 16 percent in the 2001-11 period. My own state of Kerala has the country's lowest growth rate (4.9 percent over the decade, or less than half a percent a year). That is one-fifth of Bihar's growth rate. When the census is conducted, it will almost certainly show that Kerala has lost population since 2011. Andhra Pradesh is not far behind and may well find itself in the same boat.

The consequences of this declining demography will soon be apparent on the vital issue of political representation in our parliament. In 1976, the omnibus 42nd Amendment to the Constitution decided to freeze the allocation of Lok Sabha seats to our states for 25 years to encourage population control, by assuring states that success in limiting population would not lose them Lok Sabha seats. In 2001, the NDA government of Prime Minister Vajpayee extended this arrangement for another 25 years in what became the 84th Amendment.

The thinking behind this policy was clear: it was based on the sound principle that the reward for responsible stewardship by a state of its human development could not be political disenfranchisement. While there is some logic to the argument that a democracy must value all its citizens equally—whether they live in a progressive state or one that, by failing to empower its women and reducing total fertility, has allowed its population to shoot through the roof—no federal democracy can live with the perception that states would lose political clout if they develop well, while others would gain more seats in parliament as a reward for failure.



SOURAV ROY

This is the carefully balanced arrangement that the Modi government caused to be undone by instructing the Finance Commission to use the 2011 census figures instead of the 1971 figures. Once the 2025 census reveals that the Hindi belt states are less well-represented in the Lok Sabha than their population justifies, the BJP has made it clear it also intends to re-delimit the number of constituencies to give them more representatives in parliament.

This raises important questions that the rest of India can ill afford to ignore. The states of the 'cow belt'—the Hindi-speaking heartland, once called the BIMARU states—have failed since 1971 to improve their development indicators, notably relating to female literacy and women's empowerment. As a result, their population growth has outstripped that of the southern states. Thanks to the Finance Commission's new formula, that that has made them eligible for a larger share of tax revenues. Now, following the first delimitation exercise after 2026 (as specified in the 84th Amendment), they will also receive and wield greater political authority by the sheer weight of numbers.

This is what lies behind the surprising appeals made by Naidu and Stalin. Why should southern states be punished for their impressive performance on human development by receiving less revenue and losing seats in parliament, thereby being forced to dilute their voice in national affairs?

The government's answer would be that those are the rules of democracy: one-person-one-vote means the more people you have, the more political clout you get. But in a country like India, whose diversity is held together by a sense of common belonging, but whose democracy must accommodate their differences, it is essential that all feel their common nationhood is a winning proposition for them. In a country where regional, religious and linguistic tensions are never far from the surface, such an answer—"We have more people, so we will have more money and power"—risks rupturing the fragile bonds that hold us all together.

We have already seen the south being aggrieved by the ruling party's aggressive promotion of linguistic nationalism. The three-language formula is breached by Hindi-speaking states that are complacently soaking up the benefits of their mother tongue's increasing dominance while disregarding their obligation to teach and learn a southern language.

Meanwhile, southern civil servants are suffering the burden of the government's increasing linguistic homogenisation, while English is disparaged daily with scant regard for the utility to India of its officialdom mastering a world language. Now, the south would face political disenfranchisement to go along with its sense of financial victimisation and linguistic marginalisation—a combination that is bound to generate resentments that can spill over beyond the confines of daily politics.

The only remedy is a more decentralised democracy, in which the political authority of New Delhi is not so overwhelming. That could make these concerns less relevant.

What would a decentralised democracy mean? Karnataka CM Siddaramaiah has argued that India is evolving from a 'union of states' into a 'federation of states'. This may be wishful thinking for now, in an era when a glib phrase like 'cooperative federalism' masks the reality of over-centralisation. But we should consider how to take India in that direction. Could we revise the number of subjects in the Union list and give more responsibilities (and resources) to the states?

Our 'quasi-federal' system cannot mean that the states have little or no autonomy, and feel themselves the handmaidens of New Delhi. Reviving the Inter-State Council to give them a greater voice, or even rethinking the Rajya Sabha to strengthen state representation along the lines of the US Senate—ensuring that no one group of states can impose their wishes unilaterally on the rest—are some of the ideas that deserve consideration.

What the south needs is not more babies, but better ideas—and a chance to discuss them seriously in Delhi.

HAS THE IMF REALLY BAILED SRI LANKA OUT OF DISTRESS?

BISWAJIT DHAR

Former professor, Jawaharlal Nehru University and Vice President, Council for Social Development

TWO and a half years after Sri Lanka announced a sovereign default on all its foreign debt of about $51 billion and sought a rescue package from the International Monetary Fund (IMF), two pertinent questions arise.

The first is whether IMF's Extended Fund Facility (EFF) provided to Sri Lanka in March 2023, a four-year bailout package of about $3 billion, has been able to put the country onto a sustainable path of recovery from its worst ever post-independence economic crisis. After all, the IMF had extended the support to the crisis-stricken country to "restore macroeconomic stability and debt sustainability, safeguarding financial stability, and stepping up structural reforms".

Secondly, has the IMF programme put Sri Lanka on a path of reducing debt distress?

The announcement of debt default meant the country, once an unqualified economic success story in South Asia, was facing an unprecedented economic crisis since the Covid-induced downturn. Sri Lankan economy had shrunk by about 8 percent in 2022, while the inflation rate was galloping at over 50 percent. Foreign exchange reserves had suffered a precipitous fall since the end of 2020 and was below $2 billion at the end of March 2022, enough for just 10 days of imports, as against a 3-month import cover the IMF considers adequate.

These downsides created shortages of essentials, including food and fuel. But more importantly, it increased the number of people below poverty line by about half a million in 2021. Based on the Household Income and Expenditure Survey of 2022, the Department of Census and Statistics estimated that about 60 percent of total households were below the poverty line.

In September 2022, the IMF reached a 'staff-level agreement' on an EFF with Sri Lanka, leading to imposing several conditions on the borrower. These included fiscal consolidation through major tax reforms aimed at ensuring a primary surplus of 2.3 percent of GDP by 2025, restoring price stability through monetary policy action and pursuing a flexible inflation targeting regime, rebuilding foreign reserves through restoring a market-determined and flexible exchange rate, and mitigating the impact of the current crisis by raising social spending.

Implementation of the IMF conditions were initiated in earnest, with the budget for 2023 lowering fiscal deficit to 8.5 percent from 10.2 percent in 2022. This was achieved by squeezing total expenditure and sharply increasing tax revenue. Total expenditure less interest payments suffered a 9 percent decline in real terms, while tax revenue increased over 43 percent in an attempt to improve the tax-GDP ratio.

INTERNATIONAL MONETARY FUND

AFP

The IMF's latest bailout package for Sri Lanka, which fell in place a year and a half ago, was the third time in this millennium that the multilateral lender rescued the island nation. But the package's main goal of reducing debt distress is not yet going per plan

Inflationary pressures were sought to be contained by a tight monetary policy. Policy interest rates were raised by 700 basis points in April 2022. However, in response to the "necessity of fulfilling all the prior actions" towards "finalisation of the EFF arrangement", the Sri Lankan Central Bank and IMF staff reached a consensus and raised policy interest rates further by 100 basis points in early March 2023.

Inflationary pressures were fuelled further as the Sri Lankan Rupee depreciated by 45 percent against the dollar (against the Indian rupee, the depreciation was 39 percent). But this measure provided a degree of succour in improving the country's trade balance, which was already affected due to the country's foreign exchange crunch.

Though the IMF conditions stated that "strengthening the social safety net and protecting social spending" was "critical to safeguarding the poor and vulnerable", budgetary spending on the social safety net remained almost unchanged. Thus, under the EFF programme, the emphasis was on fiscal consolidation, while the interests of the Sri Lankan households below the poverty line were completely ignored.

It may be too early to assess the effect of the EFF programme on Sri Lanka's macroeconomy, since it was officially put in place just over a year and a half back. However, given the island nation has frequently sought IMF's assistance, a case can be made for assessing the efficacy of IMF programmes.

Year 2022 was the third time since the turn of the millennium that the IMF brought Sri Lanka under the EFF programme, and the second instance in less than a decade. In 2016, the IMF had approved a 36-month extended arrangement for about $1.5 billion to support the country's economic reforms.

Among the objectives of this programme was reduction of public debt relative to the GDP and lowering of debt distress risk. None of these objectives, especially the latter, was realised. On the contrary, the country's debt increased from $44.8 billion in early 2016 to $54.7 billion at the beginning of 2019.

At the beginning of the current programme, Sri Lanka's external debt stood at below $50 billion. At the end of the second quarter of 2024, it had increased to nearly $56 billion. More significantly, while the IMF had disbursed $762 million over the past two years, Sri Lanka's repayments totalled $307 million—so repayments were 40 percent of the disbursements.

Surely, this cannot be a recipe for reducing the distress of a debt-stricken economy.

Counter-terrorism policy soon: Shah

Home minister says need to have cutting-edge tech and joint efforts to counter menace

MUKESH RANJAN @ New Delhi

Home Minister Amit Shah at the anti-terror conference in New Delhi, Thursday | PTI

UNION Home Minister Amit Shah said on Thursday that security agencies need to make joint efforts and equip themselves with cutting-edge technology to combat terror, emphasising that terrorism has become "borderless and invisible" across the globe.

"The terror attacks and their conspiracy are against us in a borderless and invisible manner. If we have to deal with it accurately, then our young officers will have to be equipped with the latest technology, they will have to be trained. We will make it an important part of the training in the coming days," Shah said, addressing the inaugural session of the 'Anti-Terror Conference 2024' organised by the National Investigation Agency.

He said the Ministry of Home Affairs will soon bring a national counter-terrorism policy and strategy.

"We are taking the next step in the proactive approach that the home ministry has made to fight terrorism, terrorists and the terrorism ecosystem. We will come up with a National Counter Terrorism Policy and Strategy," Shah said.

"But as I said, police are a state subject and the fight will have to be taken up by the state police. All the (Central) agencies will support them with technical support and information-sharing in their effort in taking action," Shah said, mentioning that the event was being attended by 21 directors general of police.

Emphasising Prime Minister Narendra Modi's zero-tolerance policy towards terrorism,

Shah said that this approach "is now accepted globally and the country has built a strong ecosystem to deal with it."

He said terror incidents have come down 70% since 2014 compared to the previous decade. "Now the shelf life of terrorists has decreased from two years to a few days," Shah said.

He said that due to the joint efforts of state and Central governments, violence has been controlled to a great extent in the three identified internal security theatres, including Jammu and Kashmir, Naxal-affected areas and the northeastern states, in the last 10 years.

Shah asked representatives of the state police forces at the conference to invoke law Unlawful Activities (Prevention) Act wherever required. "Seventy-five years of Independence have passed. Till now, 36,468 police personnel have sacrificed their lives while on duty to ensure internal security and security of the borders. I want to pay tribute to all of them today for their spirit of making the supreme sacrifice and also thank their families on behalf of the country," the home minister said.

Shah said the key focus of the anti-terror meet is on developing synergies among stake holders by establishing channels for coordinated action against the menace in the spirit of "whole of the government approach".

'36K police personnel lost life in combating terror'

Home minister Amit Shah asked representatives of the state police forces at the conference to invoke law Unlawful Activities (Prevention) Act wherever required. "Seventy-five years of Independence have passed. Till now, 36,468 police personnel have sacrificed their lives while on duty to ensure internal security and security of the borders. I want to pay tribute to all of them today for their spirit of making the supreme sacrifice and also thank their families on behalf of the country," the minister said.

India, Afghan ministers talk on Chabahar to boost trade

YESHI SELI @ New Delhi

AN Indian delegation offered the use of Chabahar port in Iran to businesses in Afghanistan and discussed extending humanitarian aid to Kabul.

The delegation was led by JP Singh, Joint Secretary (Pakistan, Afghanistan, Iran) in the Ministry of External Affairs. "The Indian delegation visited Afghanistan on November 4 and 5 and met their acting defence minister Mullah Mohammad Yaqoob and former President Hamid Karzai. Several meetings were held with various ministers and UN agencies," MEA spokesperson Randhir Jaiswal said on Thursday.

Singh also met acting foreign minister Amir Khan Muttaqi and discussed bilateral relations. Muttaqi is learnt to have requested for visa facilitation for Afghan traders.

"They had discussions on India's humanitarian assistance, also how the Chabahar Port can be utilised by the business community in Afghanistan for transactions and for export and import and any other thing that they would like to do," Jaiswal said in response to a question.

Earlier this year, India signed a 10-year contract with Iran to develop and operate the Chabahar Port, which was built with its assistance.

India does not recognise the Taliban regime that has been ruling Afghanistan since 2021, but its embassy is functional. It has a technical team posted there which is primarily aiding in humanitarian assistance. India has been providing humanitarian aid, including wheat, medicines and medical supplies as well as earthquake resistance material, to the Afghan people from time to time.

"I also want to recall that providing humanitarian aid to Afghanistan is an important part of our assistance programme and so far we have dispatched several shipments of humanitarian assistance. We have longstanding ties with the people of Afghanistan. These ties will continue to guide our approach towards it," Jaiswal said.

Meanwhile, Karzai said more attention should be paid to the education and training of the Afghan youth, developing trade, and easing travel between the two sides.

This visit is being viewed as significant for India-Afghanistan ties. The Taliban's defence ministry said in a post on X that Yaqoob, the son of Taliban founder Mullah Omar, met the Indian delegation. "The two sides emphasised their common desire to expand bilateral relations, especially in the field of humanitarian cooperation," the post said.

Not anti-biz, but against monopoly, says Rahul on 'East India Company' row

PREETHA NAIR @ New Delhi

COUNTERING allegations that he is against big businesses, Leader of Opposition in the Lok Sabha Rahul Gandhi asserted on Thursday that he is not "anti-business', but "anti-monopoly" and "anti creating oligopolies".

In an X post, the Congress MP said, "I want to make something absolutely clear, I have been projected by my opponents in the BJP to be anti-business. I am not anti-business in the least. I am anti-monopoly, I am anti creating oligopolies, I am anti-domination of business by one or two or five people."

Gandhi further said that he started his career as a management consultant. "I understand the type of things that are required for a business to succeed. So I just want to repeat, I am not anti-business, I am anti-monopoly," he said, "I am pro-jobs, pro-business, pro-innovation, pro-competition. I am anti-monopoly."

"Our economy will thrive when there is free and fair space for all businesses," he asserted.

The LoP's remarks came a day after he wrote an opinion piece, in which he argued that the original East India Company wound up its operations more than 150 years ago but the raw fear it used to generate then is back now, with a new breed of monopolists having taken its place. He, however, had also asserted that a "new deal for progressive Indian business is an idea whose time has come".

In another post on X, Gandhi said, "After my article, many play-fair businesses are telling me that a senior minister has been calling and forcing them to say good things on social media about PM Modi and the government's programmes. Proves my point exactly!"

Gandhi's article said India was silenced by the East India Company and it was silenced not by the company's business prowess, but by its chokehold. The company choked India by partnering with, bribing and threatening more pliant maharajas and nawabs, he said.

SC turns down plea to shift RG Kar rape-murder trial outside Bengal

SUCHITRA K MOHANTY @ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Thursday refused to transfer the rape and murder trial of a 31-year-old resident doctor from Kolkata's RG Kar Medical College and Hospital outside the state of West Bengal.

A three-judge bench led by Chief Justice DY Chandrachud stated that the trial court judge had sufficient authority to order a fresh investigation if deemed necessary after reviewing the evidence.

The request to transfer the trial was presented by lawyer before the bench, which also comprised Justices JB Pardiwala and Manoj Misra. However, it was turned down.

Despite the lawyer emphasizing that the people of West Bengal are losing faith in police and judiciary, the court remained resolute.

While refusing to transfer the trial outside the state, the top court said, "We have done it in cases like the Manipur violence case, but we are not considering a transfer here. There will be no such transfer. "

On Thursday, the National Task Force also submitted a status report with suggestions to protect medical professionals from sexual or other kinds of violence and to create a safe working environment.

Advocate Kanu Agrawal, representing the Centre, informed that the report has short-term, long-term and medium-term measures.

The top court also examined the sixth status report filed by the CBI in relation to the RG Kar Medical College case, but refrained from making any observations saying the probe was underway.

The court then ordered that the report be circulated to various stakeholders, including all states so that they can give their inputs in three weeks.

"All counsels can also give suggestions on how to improve the report. Tell us what kind of monitoring mechanism can be devised and if it can be implemented we will direct it so," the Chief Justice added.

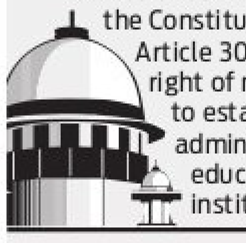
Verdict on AMU's minority status today



A seven-judge Constitution bench led by CJI DY Chandrachud will on Friday pronounce its judgment on whether the Aligarh Muslim University enjoys minority status under Article 30 of the Constitution or not. Article 30 states the right of minorities to establish and administer educational institutions.

Recruitment rules for govt jobs can't be changed midway, says SC

SUCHITRA K MOHANTY @ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court ruled on Thursday that the recruitment rules for government jobs cannot be altered midway unless allowed by the prescribed procedures.

A five-judge bench headed by Chief Justice DY Chandrachud held that "rules of the game" once set before the start of recruitment process cannot be tinkered with midway.

"Eligibility criteria for being placed in the select list notified at the commencement of the recruitment process can't be changed midway through the recruitment process unless the extant rules so permit or the advertisement that is not contrary to the extant rules so permit," it stated.

The selection rules should not be arbitrary and be in accordance with Article 14 of the Constitution, observed the bench, which also comprised four other judges besides the CJI, namely Justices Hrishikesh Roy, PS Narasimha, Pankaj Mithal and Manoj Misra.

Oppn MPs up ante, say will boycott next round of JPC meet on Waqf Bill

PREETHA NAIR @ New Delhi

TWO days after meeting with the Lok Sabha Speaker to protest the functioning of the Joint Parliamentary Committee (JPC) regarding the Waqf Bill, the Opposition MPs of the panel have decided to boycott the upcoming meetings scheduled for November 9-14.

The panel is set to embark on a five-state tour from Saturday and will hold meetings in Guwahati, Bhubaneswar, Kolkata, Patna and Lucknow over the next six days. The team is expected to submit its report during the first week of winter session of Parliament, which is set to commence on November 25.

Announcing the decision, Trinamool Congress MP Kalyan Banerjee said, "All the opposition members of the JPC have decided to boycott the tour and its meetings as the chairman is working in an arbitrary and high-handed manner."

At a press conference in Kolkata, Banerjee said the future course of action will be decided jointly by the Opposition members. Speaking to this newspaper, DMK MP A Raja said that the decision to boycott the meeting was taken jointly by all members. "There is no transparency in the functioning of the panel," he added.

Another MP said that no action was taken by Speaker Om Birla, though he assured the Opposition to look into their concerns.

"The panel chairman does not follow due process of consultation. The Speaker spoke to us in a cordial way, but nothing happened after that," he said.

Banerjee said the JPC chairman fixed a hectic schedule, hence the Opposition members met the Speaker seeking deferment of the schedule and reduction in the number meeting days. The TMC leader said the Speaker agreed verbally but took no action.

The members have warned that they might be forced to disassociate with the JPC as they have been stonewalled.

Parents concerned over kids using social media

KAVITA BAJELI-DATT @ New Delhi

EVEN as Australia on Thursday announced that children below the age of 16 years will soon not be allowed to use social media as it is causing harm, in India, a latest survey has found that parents similarly want the government to step in. They want the government to pass a data protection law to ensure mandatory parental consent for children aged below 18 years when they join social media, OTT or video, and online gaming platforms.

According to the survey conducted across 368 urban districts in the country by LocalCircles, a community social media platform, one in two urban Indian parents said their children are addicted to social media, OTT and online gaming platforms, which is making them aggressive, impatient and lethargic.

While most children aged between 9 and 17 are on social media for 3-6 hours, many watch it for more than 6 hours, said the survey. It also found that most children are hooked on to YouTube, Prime Video, Netflix and Hotstar, followed closely by Instagram, WhatsApp, Discord, Snapchat and Be Real.

The survey found that parents are so worried about their children's changing behaviour, mostly turning aggressive, that they want the government to take a step similar to Australia and other countries, and pass a data protection law to ensure mandatory parental consent for children under 18 when they join social media. Norwegian government has announced a proposal to increase the minimum age for social media use to 15.

About the survey's findings, Dr Yatan Pal Singh Balhara, Professor of Psychiatry, Behavioral Addictions Clinic, AIIMS, said, "It is high time that we realise the adverse consequences of excessive use of social media, OTT and gaming among children and adolescents."

"We need to prioritise this as an important public health concern. There is a need to create awareness, invest in prevention-oriented strategies and strengthen the treatment services for those with addiction. And for this, everyone needs to come on board to make meaningful change," he told this newspaper.

"The bottom line is, we need to ensure safe and healthy internet-related behaviour among our children and adolescents," said Dr Balhara, who has been seeing an increasing number of "cyber" addicts in the clinic, especially after the Covid-19 pandemic.

LocalCircles founder Sachin Taparia said they will share the "concerning" survey results with the government.

According to the survey, 66% of respondents wanted the data protection law to ensure that mandatory parental consent is sought for children under 18 when they join online platforms. Many wanted the government to implement mandatory parental consent via Aadhaar authentication for children under 18 when joining such platforms.

Now, Ayurveda Biology in the UGC-NET

KAVITA BAJELI-DATT @ New Delhi

AYURVEDA Biology has now been introduced as a subject in the UGC-NET exam, the University Grants Commission (UGC) announced on Thursday. Starting December 2024, candidates can opt for this unique subject, promoting interdisciplinary knowledge and the ancient science of Ayurveda.

UGC Chairman Prof M Jagadesh Kumar said, "The introduction of Ayurveda Biology as a paper in UGC-NET will encourage aspiring students to the Sanskrit texts of Ayurveda to integrate the deep knowledge contained in these texts to create a holistic and sustainable model for study and research in contemporary biological sciences."

After they complete their PhD programme in Ayurveda Biology, they will have the opportunity to join Universities to research and train future generations of students, he said. Prof Kumar added that with people becoming more aware of the benefits of natural and holistic healthcare, Ayurveda has become popular as an alternative to allopathic medicine, contributing to the rapid expansion of this sector.

"Ayurveda is increasingly being integrated with modern healthcare systems. Therefore, we must understand Ayurveda from the perspective of contemporary science," he said.

Ayurveda Biology aims to study India's vast expanse of traditional knowledge in the field of Ayurvedic and related sciences from the perspective of mainstream contemporary studies in Biological Sciences, he added. The UGC conducts the National Eligiblity Test (NET) through the National Testing Agency (NTA) twice a year, in June and December. Its syllabus is available on the UGC-NET website, i.e, www.ugcnetonline.in, the notice, dated November 5 said.

With Ayurveda Biology being added for UGC-NET exams, now there are a total of 105 subjects, including Political Science, Philosophy, Psychology, Sociology, History.

Community radio challenge at WAVES

PARVEZ SULTAN @ New Delhi

THE Ministry of Information and Broadcasting has issued an advisory to community radio stations, encouraging them to participate in the World Audio Visual and Entertainment Summit (WAVES) competition titled 'Community Radio Content Challenge.' According to the advisory, the competition aims to showcase the creativity, innovation, and impact of community radio stations across India.

"WAVES will bring together a diverse range of stakeholders shaping the future of media and entertainment, and community radio stations are a part of it. They are invited to participate in the WAVES competition, Community Radio Content Challenge," it said.

The WAVES Summit, which is scheduled to be held in February, aims to promote India as a hub of content creation. According to the government, the grand summit is aimed at attracting filmmakers across the globe to the Indian market.

J&K Assembly turns battleground

Sloganeering, scuffles, exchange of blows and House staff marshalling out BJP MLAs

FAYAZ WANI @ Srinagar

A day after the house in voice vote passed the resolution on restoration of special status to Jammu and Kashmir, the proceedings in the state Assembly on Thursday was action-packed. The House witnessed protests, sloganeering, scuffles, exchange of blows and martialling out of some agitating BJP members by ward and watch staff of Assembly.

Meanwhile, six members including 3 PDP MLAs have moved a fresh resolution on immediate restoration of Articles 370 and 35A. As the House met in the morning, Speaker Abdur Rahim Rather allowed the Leader of Opposition Sunil Sharma to speak.

Sunil termed the resolution on restoration of J&K's special status passed by house yesterday as "totally illegal and unconstitutional" and accused the Speaker of bringing disrepute to the House.

It set off a protests from the treasury benches amidst sloganeering, "J&K ki Awaz Kya, 370 Aur Kya".

As the BJP members continued their protest, the Speaker asked the agitating members not to test his patience and "don't force me to do things which I don't want to do".

The situation escalated further when AIP member and brother of MP Er Rashid, Khurshid Ahmed Sheikh moved into the well with a banner reading, "Article 370 and 35A should be immediately restored and all prisoners released".

The banner infuriated the BJP members, who were already in the well of the house. They rushed towards the lawmaker to pounce on him to snatch the banner from him. It led to violence scuffle and PDP members, Peoples Conference chairman Sajad Lone and some NC members came to the rescue of Sheikh.

As blows were exchanged, Speaker adjourned the house for 15 minutes.

When the house met again, BJP members continued their protest with LoP saying, "NC in the name of special status got people murdered".

It drew sharp response from NC members, who said, "After House passed a resolution yesterday, people in Jammu are celebrating and distributing sweets. The BJP members are also happy that the resolution has been passed as they don't have courage to speak on it because their remote control is somewhere else".

The BJP members repeatedly came into the well of the house, some also climbed on the tables and some others attempted to move towards the Speaker's chair. However, the ward and watch staff of the Assembly prevented them from going near the chair.

As BJP members continued to raise noise and refused to return to their seats, the Speaker directed the martials to evict members protesting in the well of the house.

The BJP, however, initially resisted the eviction with some of them trying to push back the ward and watch staff. But the martials regrouped and evicted a few protesting BJP members.

However, the eviction did not have much impact and BJP members continued protest amidst chanting of slogans like, "Gundagardi nahi chalegi" and "resolution wapas lo".

As the pandemonium and unruly scenes continued, Speaker adjourned the house for the day.

It was for the second consecutive day in five-day inaugural session of J&K Assembly that the house was adjourned due to pandemonium created by BJP members on passage of resolution on restoration of special status.

Two VDGs killed by terrorists in Kishtwar

In yet another targeted attack, two Village Defence Guards (VDG) were killed by terrorists in Kishtwar district of Jammu and Kashmir. A police official said the two VDGs — identified as Nazir Ahmad and Kuldeep Kumar — had gone to Munzla Dhar forest area, were they were abducted and killed. The terrorists also released pictures of the slain VDGs. Meanwhile, another encounter broke out between the terrorists and security forces at Sopore in north Kashmir on Thursday.

Panchayat, civic body polls after 2 years in Gujarat

DILIP SINGH KSHATRIYA @ Ahmedabad

AFTER a two-year delay since the end of the last five-year term, Gujarat is set to hold panchayat and civic body elections. Preparations are expected to begin by late November, with voting likely in December across 5,410 local bodies in the state, officials said.

Sources indicate that panchayat and civic body elections are expected to be announced after the Maharashtra and Jharkhand assembly elections conclude on November 20.

The Development Commissioner has already issued notifications for 44 seats in Kheda district panchayat, 24 in Kathlal taluka panchayat, 26 in Kapadwanj taluka panchayat, and 28 in Gandhinagar taluka panchayat. "Following the notifications, the State Election Commission will announce the seats under the new delimitations, setting the stage for the elections," said an official involved in poll preparations.

The election process had been on hold due to delays in implementing a 27% reservation for Other Backward Classes (OBCs) in local bodies, including panchayats, municipalities and corporations. In August 2023, the Gujarat government approved a 27% reservation. The move, based on the recommendations from the Justice Jhaveri Commission, comes after the Supreme Court ruled that OBC reservations must reflect population-based data.

Previously, OBC reservations in Gujarat's local bodies stood at 10%. Sources from the Development Commissioner's office said that with the by-election for Vav assembly seat underway, the code of conduct remains in effect across Banaskantha district. "Notifications regarding reserved seats for the Banaskantha district and taluka panchayats will be issued only after the election concludes. Vote counting for the by-election is scheduled for November 23, so the notifications are expected to be released after November 25," an official said.

Elections are set for Kheda and Banaskantha district panchayats, 17 taluka panchayats, 72 municipalities, and 5,319 gram panchayats, with additional polls to fill 84 vacant seats.

Modi to hold roadshow and rallies in J'khand on Nov 10

MUKESH RANJAN @ Ranchi

PRIME Minister Narendra Modi will hold a mega roadshow of about five km after addressing election rallies at Chandnkiyari in Bokaro and Gumla on November 10. This will mark his second visit to Jharkhand as the BJP seeks to consolidate its position in the state. First phase of polls is scheduled to take place on November 13 and second phase will be held on November 20, while the counting of votes will take place on November 23.

Modi's road show is expected to start at OTC Ground, proceeding to New Market Chowk in Ranchi—an area regarded as a stronghold of the BJP. The location carries political significance, being the constituency of Union Minister of State for Defence and Ranchi MP Sanjay Seth, as well as six-time Ranchi MLA CP Singh. The state administration has launched an extensive security operation, mapping all significant points and high-rise buildings along the route.

This will be the first-ever visit by an Indian Prime Minister to Chandankiyari, with Modi rallying support for BJP candidate and Leader of the Opposition in the Jharkhand Assembly, Amar Kumar Bauri. Chandankiyari has long been a contested seat, witnessing friction between the BJP and its former ally AJSU Party.

Following a reallocation, the seat was retained by the BJP. Former Chandankiyari MLA and ex-minister Umakant Rajak's recent defection from AJSU to Jharkhand Mukti Morcha has further reshuffled the region's political dynamics. Gumla on the other hand, is a critical constituency where former Union Minister Sudarshan Bhagat is contesting for the BJP. In the 2019 elections, the JMM secured Gumla and other nearby constituencies, prompting the BJP to rethink its strategy in tribal regions.

Ahead of the visit of Modi, Union Home Minister Amit Shah will also visit Jharkhand on November 9 and will address three election rallies at Chhatarpur, Hazaribagh and Potka. Rahul Gandhi, however, will be visiting Jharkhand first time after the Assembly polls were declared and will address election rallies on November 8 and 9.

Boycott state polls, says PLFI

Registering their presence in Jharkhand after a long time, the People's Liberation Front of India (PLFI), an offshoot of CPI (Maoist), have put up posters near Ranchi and Khunti calling for a boycott of Assembly polls in Jharkhand. Challenging the police and the administration, the PLFI has put up posters. They were released by PLFI's central panel, and claimed the government has failed to serve the people and urged citizens to 'destroy rule of police admin.'

Sharad blames BJP for 'lack' of Maha growth in last 10 yrs

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @ Mumbai

IN the run-up to the November 20 Maharashtra Assembly elections, former union minister and NCP chief Sharad Pawar on Thursday alleged that after the BJP came to power in 2022, it has halted the state's growth leading to its decline in ranking from first to sixth in terms of development and industrial growth.

While campaigning for his party's candidate in Nagpur, Pawar claimed that Prime Minister Narendra Modi has treated Maharashtra unfairly. "Since the BJP came to power in the state, Maharashtra's growth has stopped. As a result, it has fallen from being the number one state to the sixth position in development and industrial growth. Additionally, the state is experiencing a law and order crisis.

In the past six months alone, over 630 women have gone missing in the Nagpur region, highlighting significant concerns about women's safety in BJP-ruled states.

Furthermore, farmer suicides have increased dramatically," said the former agriculture minister.

In addition, the majority of development and job-generating projects have been shifted from Maharashtra to Gujarat, leading to increased unemployment in Maharashtra, he alleged. "We need to dethrone a government that is indifferent to the interests of our state. What we require now is a government that will protect the interests of local people," he stated.

Promising to honor every commitment made by the INDIA bloc, the NCP chief emphasized that all the claims in their manifesto will be fulfilled once they win the election and return to power. "We are not like the BJP, which makes grand promises only to break them after winning the election. This is what they refer to as 'jumla,' and the saffron party excels at it. We are different, we do not retract our promises once made, unlike the BJP. The Maha Vikas Aghadi has given five guarantees that they will fulfill, come what may," Pawar asserted. The Congress, NCP (SP), Shiv Sena (UBT), CPI(M), SP and other Maha Vikas Aghadi (MVA) allies have come together to provide an alternative to the people, he said.

Will get bachelors get married: NCP nominee

In elections, there is no limit to promises for getting votes. NCP(SP) candidate Rajesaheb Deshumkh, contesting from Parli in Maharashtra's Beed district, promised to arrange marriages of bachelors in his constituency if he won the assembly poll. In presence of party chief Sharad Pawar, he said the reason for the youth not getting brides is unemployment. Deshumkh said his opponent, NCP (Ajit) minister Dhanajay Munde, did not bring a single industry to the constituency, so bachelors are finding it difficult to get married. "If I become an MLA, I will conduct marriages of all bachelors," he said.

Parties find novel ways to send cash

Carrying hard cash in big amounts is problem during polls. Candidates and their parties are finding new techniques to carry cash from one place to another for distribution among the voters, though police are putting up all efforts to detect it. Opposition parties allege that candidates of the ruling parties are transferring cash in police vans, so no one would dare to inspect these vehicles. Some candidates are allegedly using ambulances or tempos carrying vegetables to send bundles of currency notes. Cash and other inducements worth ₹175 crore to bribe voters has been seized.

Campaign workers now choosy for food

Parties need to provide food to workers campaigning for their candidates. Earlier, candidates used to hire local cooks and give them required items to prepare the food for party workers. Breakfast, lunch and dinner were served in those makeshift camps. But nowadays, most of the workers have been engaged in campaigning do not prefer to eat that way. They have been demanding hard cash, at least ₹500 to ₹2000 per person, depending on their political weight. They then book a local bar to enjoy food and drinks. No one wants to campaign with mere snacks like vada pav. Now biryani is staple food for campaign workers.

Bypoll battle: Chouhan, Pilot hit campaign trail

ANURAAG SINGH @ Bhopal

AHEAD of bypolls on November 13 in Madhya Pradesh, BJP and Congress hit campaign trail in the state with focus on Budhni. While former Rajasthan deputy CM Sachin Pilot campaigned in Vijaypur assembly constituency of Gwalior-Chambal region on Thursday, former MP CM and current union agriculture minister Shivraj Singh Chouhan campaigned in his bastion Budhni.

Vijaypur assembly constituency of Sheopur district neighbours Pilot's home state Rajasthan. Interestingly, he had campaigned for Congress candidate and then five-time former MLA Ramniwas Rawat, who switched to BJP, from the same constituency during the 2023 assembly polls.

Addressing a gathering in Gurjar community dominated Goras village, Pilot said, "Vijaypur and adjoining Rajasthan share an inseparable Roti-Beti bonding. You vote the Congress candidate to victory and four years later, we'll bring Congress back to power in Rajasthan." He added, "BJP's graph in the entire country is declining and the INDIA grouping will win the upcoming elections in Maharashtra and Jharkhand. I have been to Jamshedpur (Jharkhand) and there is a one-sided wave prevailing in that state."

Meanwhile, Chouhan is campaigning for his loyalist and BJP candidate Ramakant Bhargava. Budhni witnessed ghar vapasi of an ex-BJP politician — Deepak Joshi, the former MP minister son of ex-CM Late Kailash Joshi. Joshi's return in presence of Chouhan is likely to strike a chord with the Brahmin voters.

SRK gets death threat demanding ₹50 lakh, cops trace call to Raipur

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Mumbai

HINDI cinema superstar Shah Rukh Khan has reportedly received a death threat demanding a sum ₹50 lakh, according to the Mumbai Police on Thursday. A police complaint has been registered against the caller in connection with this threat.

The Mumbai police traced the call to Raipur, the capital of Chhattisgarh. When they contacted the owner of the registered mobile phone used for the call, he informed them that he had lost his phone on November 2 and had already filed a police complaint at a local police station in Raipur on the same day.

He said that someone had misused his lost phone to make the threat call. Subsequently, the Mumbai police went to his residence to record his statement. Meanwhile, the actor is yet to react to the death threat.

According to police, on November 5, the Mumbai Police received the death threat call around 8 am. The caller identified himself as "Hindustani" and claimed that he was outside the Don 2 actor's residence, known as Mannat, and making the call. "I am calling Shah Rukh from Mannat Bandstand. If he doesn't give me 50 lakhs, I will kill him," the report quoted him as saying over the call. After the incident, a case was registered against an unidentified individual at the Bandra police station for allegedly threatening actor Shah Rukh Khan. The police have registered the case under sections 308(4), 351(3)(4) of BNS.

Police teams have been dispatched to various places for further investigation. However, no arrests have been made so far. The incident comes after superstar Salman Khan received a series of death threats that included demands for ransoms. The Lawrence Bishnoi gang has been targeting the actor since he was involved in the hunting of a blackbuck during the shooting the movie 'Hum Saath saath Hai' movie in 1998 in Rajasthan's Jodhpur district.

Biren hits back at Mizo CM over Kuki-Zo remarks

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Guwahati

MANIPUR Chief Minister N Biren Singh said anyone challenging India's integrity would get a 'befitting reply'. Speaking at a Kuki-Zo diaspora gathering in the US in September, Singh's Mizoram counterpart Lalduhoma had expressed support for the unification of Kuki-Zo tribals, who are spread across India, Bangladesh and Myanmar, under a single leadership.

On Thursday, when Singh was asked about Lalduhoma's remarks, he said, "I don't want to react on his comment. As a proud Indian, as the Chief Minister of Manipur and as a nationalist, (I would say) no one can touch India's and Manipur's integrity."

Stating that India is a big country and "we should be proud" of being Indians, he told the media on the sidelines of a school's silver jubilee celebration in Imphal that his position is very clear. "We will stand for India and for its unity".

"It is our duty to keep India united. Whoever will challenge it, we will give a befitting reply," he added.

Opposition Congress in BJP-ruled Manipur also slammed the Mizoram CM for his remarks which "undermined the unity and integrity of both India and Manipur". Earlier, Mizoram's directorate of information and public relations (DIPR) had issued a statement on Lalduhoma's speech in the US.

"I want to let everyone here know that the primary reason I accepted the invitation to visit the US is to seek a path towards unity for all of us. We are one people — brothers and sisters — and we cannot afford to be divided," the Mizoram DIPR quoted Lalduhoma as saying.

ED raids offices of sellers using Amazon, Flipkart platforms

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @New Delhi/Bengaluru

THE Enforcement Directorate (ED) on Thursday raided some of the sellers related to prominent e-commerce platforms Amazon and Flipkart in the matter related to alleged violation of Foreign Exchange Management Act (FEMA).

The action follows concerns raised by traders and retailers over FDI violations and anti-competitive practices in quick commerce, e-commerce sector. Sources say the entities raided include Appario Retail, Shreyash Retail, Darshita Retail and Ashiana Retail. Appario Retail, once owned by Amazon, is now part of Clicktech Retail, a seller on Amazon. Both Flipkart and Amazon didn't respond to queries. As per sources, searches were done at multiple locations in Hyderabad, Bengaluru, Delhi and Gurugram. The Confederation of All India Traders (CAIT) welcomed the ED action. Praveen Khandelwal, MP and Secretary General, CAIT, said several trade bodies have been raising these issues for the past a few years. "Earlier, the Competition Commission of India issued penalty notices to Amazon, Flipkart and their preferred sellers for engaging in anti-competitive practices," he said. "In response to complaints filed by the trading community regarding FDI violations and anti-competitive practices of quick-commerce companies like Blinkit, Swiggy, and Zepto, we urge both CCI and ED to take swift action to prevent any further, irreparable damage to the businesses of small traders," he added.

Erases Wednesday's gains as market priced in Trump victory

Mkt falls as traders remain cautious ahead of Fed meet

ARSHAD KHAN @ New Delhi

DOMESTIC equity market dropped sharply on Thursday, erasing gains made on Wednesday following Republican candidate Donald Trump's victory in the US presidential election, which had initially boosted investor sentiment globally. The recent decline reflects investors' caution ahead of the US Federal Reserve's critical monetary policy decision, set to be announced late Thursday.

The dip in equities was intensified by weak Q2FY25 earnings, a fall in rupee and persistent selling by foreign institutional investors (FIIs). Sensex closed 836.34 points or 1.04% lower at 79,541.79, and the Nifty settled 284.70 points or 1.16% lower at 24,199.30. The broader markets also settled in the red, with Nifty Midcap100 and Nifty Smallcap100 falling 0.43% and 0.75%, respectively.

"The fall can be attributed to continuing foreign fund outflows after rupee fell to fresh lows following strength in the dollar. Investors restricted their equity bets ahead of the US Fed's policy announcement as they are unsure of the rate cut this time on concerns of a likely uptick in inflation," said Prashanth Tapse, Senior VP (Research), Mehta Equities.

This is the first meeting outcome of the Fed following the closely contested US election. The chair is expected to deliver 25 basis points of rate cuts in this meeting. "All cyclical sectors came under selling pressure and some more weakness could be in store in near term. Global equities were mostly higher buoyed by a record rise for US shares overnight, with the focus on policy decisions from the Federal Reserve and other major central banks, including the Bank of England (BoE), later in the day," said Deepak Jasani, Head of Retail Research at HDFC Securities.

The fall in Indian equities came despite Dow Futures surging by 1,100 points while Russell 2000 futures jumped 4% on Wednesday. European markets surged tracking US poll results. China's Shanghai Composite and Hang Seng advanced about 2% each on Thursday.

Jasani said Asian equities, excluding China, saw sharp foreign outflows in October ($15.38 bn - largest monthly net sales since June 2022), as investors wary of the election outcome reacted to concerns over weaker-than-expected corporate earnings, overvalued stocks and rising bond yields.

Share of DIIs reached all-time high of 26.04% in Sept

Domestic funds overtake foreign investors in market

BENN KOCHUVEEDAN @ Mumbai

THE ownership of domestic non-promoter equity market has finally come out of the control of foreign funds in October, following their pull-out of over ₹1.1 lakh crore in the month. As a result, the share of ownership of domestic institutional investors (DIIs), along with retail investors including high networth individual investors, has reached an all-time high of 26.04% in the September 2024 quarter has risen by a few notches in October.

As per market data aggregator Prime Database, the net FPI outflow in October alone was to the tune of ₹1,13,859 crore from the secondary market and that of the primary market was ₹94,017 crore as against their investment of ₹19,842 crore in primary market. On the other hand, the net inflows from DIIs and retail were ₹1,07,255 crore in October. With this, DIIs' share is likely to have already overtaken FIIs' share by now.

This increasing control comes despite the fact that the share of retail and HNIs has declined slightly to 7.61% and 1.97%, respectively, in September from 7.64% and 1.98% in June 2024. As such, the combined retail and HNI share decreased to 9.58% from 9.61% during the quarter. Individual investors bought a net of ₹17,810 crore in the secondary market during the quarter.

It can be noted that for years, FPIs were the largest non-promoter shareholders in the domestic market. This is no longer the case as domestic investors are now playing a strong counter balancing role. Meanwhile, the ownership gap between domestic institutional investors and foreign funds have narrowed to an all-time low of 1.09% in the September quarter. This means that foreign funds still are the single largest owners of domestic equity market at 17.55% while domestic funds/DIIs own 16.46%, which is the highest ever, in terms of their holding in the NSE stocks.

The share of DIIs has marginally rose from 16.25% in the June quarter with a net inflow of ₹1,03,625 crore during the reporting quarter, according to Prime Database. The widest gap between FII and DII holding was in quarter ending March 2015, when DII share was a staggering 10.31% lower than FII share. In rupee terms, DII holding was 49.82% lower than FII holding as of March 2015, while the FPI to DII ownership ratio was 1.99.

Sebi official warns mkt infra institutions against unhealthy competition

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Mumbai

SEBI whole-time member Ananth Narayan Gopalakrishnan on Wednesday warned market infrastructure institutions (MIIs) against their tendency to race to the bottom as they compete for clients.

MIIs are entities that provide the infrastructure enabling trading, settlement, and record-keeping in securities market such as stock exchanges, clearing corporations, and depositories. Bolstering the governance frameworks of the MIIs is crucial for ensuring investor protection and market integrity, Gopalakrishnan said, adding Sebi is intent on ensuring that these bodies have skilled personnel in risk, compliance, and technology. Additionally, Sebi is building a cadre of specialised IT supervisors to enhance oversight of MIIs' technological operations and ensure the resilience of market technology platforms, Gopalakrishnan said addressing a financial sector event organised by Business Standard here on Thursday.

"Today's attention span has often narrowed to formats like Youtube Shorts and Instagram reels, but opinions on regulatory matters remain fervent," he said, stressing on importance of thoughtful, calm dialogue in shaping policies that protect the public interest while fostering market confidence and stability.

Climaveneta to invest ₹400 cr to expand facility

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Bengaluru

BENGALURU-headquartered Climaveneta Climate Technologies (CCT), a group company of Japan's Mitsubishi Electric, on Thursday announced it will invest ₹400 crore to expand its manufacturing facility at Narsapura, near Bengaluru. It will also double its workforce from the present 300 people in the next five years.

Chiller manufacturer CCT, which currently has an order booking of over ₹500 crore, aims to double the annual order intake in the next five years, and it is also targeting a revenue of ₹1,000 crore in the next four-five years.

Anil Dev, CEO, Climaveneta Climate Technologies India, said the chiller market size is about ₹2,800 crore in India and that they are looking for exports. "We are doing exports in a small way currently, but in another five years, our export revenues could be 20%," he said. Its present market share in the industry is 14% and it targets to reach 18% by 2030. The facility will manufacture central air-conditioning equipment and its current capacity is about 1,200 chiller systems annually.

Include land authorities in CoCs, asks IBBI

MONIKA YADAV @ New Delhi

IN yet another set of likely changes in rules related to real estate insolvency, the regulator has proposed including land authorities in the Committee of Creditors (CoC) without giving them voting rights. The regulator also proposes an amendment in the law to make it clear that claims of homebuyers must include 8% interest per annum.

Currently, the CoC primarily comprises financial creditors, which often leads to a disconnect regarding land-related regulatory issues, potentially complicating resolution plans.

In a bid to streamline insolvency proceedings in real estate sector, the Insolvency and Bankruptcy Board of India (IBBI) has proposed several recommendations to the rules on real estate insolvency process.

This recommendation, outlined in a recently released discussion paper, seeks to address the critical role that land authorities play but currently lack adequate representation in the corporate insolvency resolution process (CIRP) involving real estate companies.

The IBBI's initiative comes in response to recommendations from a study group formed by the Indian Institute of Insolvency Professionals of ICAI (IIIPI), which emphasised the necessity of incorporating land authorities into the decision-making framework.

IBBI's proposed measures include allowing resolution professionals to transfer ownership of plots, apartments, or buildings directly to allottees during resolution process, pending approval from the CoC. The discussion paper advocates for the appointment of facilitators to represent large classes of creditors, thereby improving communication and ensuring that their interests are adequately represented.

In a bid to keep allottees informed about the status of their projects, IBBI has proposed granting them access to the minutes of CoC meetings related to real estate insolvencies.

India should join RCEP, CPTPP: Niti Aayog CEO

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @New Delhi

INDIA should be a part of the Regional Comprehensive Economic Partnership and Comprehensive and Progressive Agreement for Trans-Pacific Partnership, Niti Aayog CEO BVR Subrahmanyam said on Thursday.

India pulled out of the RCEP in 2019 after entering negotiations in 2013. The RCEP bloc comprises 10 ASEAN group members (Brunei, Cambodia, Indonesia, Malaysia, Myanmar, Singapore, Thailand, the Philippines, Laos and Vietnam) and their six FTA partners - China, Japan, South Korea, Australia and New Zealand.

"India is one of few countries which are not a part of large trade agreements. India should be a part of RCEP (Regional Comprehensive Economic Partnership) and CPTPP (Comprehensive and Progressive Agreement for Trans-Pacific Partnership) and become a member," Subrahmanyam said at an event organised by industry body Assocham.

"...that will be best for India's Micro, Small & Medium Enterprises (MSME) sector. The 40 per cent of India's exports are from MSME. Big corporates are not great exporters," he added.

CII CALLS FOR STRATEGIC REFORMS, INVESTMENT IN PRE-BUDGET MEET

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

WHILE sharing recommendations during the pre-Budget consultation meet with senior officials of the Ministry of Finance including revenue secretary Sanjay Malhotra, the Confederation of Indian Industries (CII) delegation called for sustaining the cycle of capital investment in areas such as infrastructure to provide a further fillip to growth through a boost to employment and consumption.

Additionally, CII made a pitch for further reforms in tax system including through simplification of taxes, increasing India's tax competitiveness, broadening of tax base and reducing tax litigation in order to build a globally competitive Indian economy. Sanjiv Puri, President, CII and Chairman, during the presentation said, "India has emerged as the beacon of stability and growth in a fraught world. We are looking at the Union Budget to further consolidate its position and create a competitive India that is prosperous, inclusive, equitable, environment friendly and technologically advanced."

Chandrajit Banerjee, Director General, CII, stated, "This Budget comes at a time when the world is going through some period of geopolitical and economic uncertainty. India is uniquely positioned to send a clear message to the global economic community that India is an island of growth in this milieu."

M&M profit rises 35% to ₹3,171 cr; upgrades tractor sales forecast

NEW DELHI: Mahindra & Mahindra Ltd on Thursday reported a 35% year-on-year growth in consolidated profit after tax (PAT) to ₹3,171 crore in the current financial year, driven by higher auto and tractor volumes. The company had reported a consolidated PAT of ₹2,348 crore in the second quarter of FY'24. Consolidated revenue for the September quarter was at ₹37,924 crore, a rise of 10% from ₹34,436 crore in the corresponding quarter a year ago, the company said in a statement. On a standalone basis, net profit for the quarter rose by 13.2% to ₹3,840.88 crore as compared to ₹3,393.06 crore in the second quarter of the last year. Standalone revenue from operations grew 12.94% to ₹27,553.26 crore from ₹24,394.79 crore in the same quarter of FY24, a regulatory filing said. ENS

Trent net profit up 47% to ₹335 cr on higher revenue of ₹4,157 cr

MUMBAI: Trent, Tata Group's retail chain helmed by Noel Tata, on Wednesday reported consolidated net income of ₹335 crore for Q2FY25, up a 47% from ₹228 crore in the year-ago period. Consolidated revenue rose 39% to ₹4,157 crore as against ₹2,982 crore a year ago, the company said in an exchange filing Thursday. But the Trent shares fell over 7% to ₹6,476 on the BSE as net profit fell 14% on sequential basis. "Consumer sentiment has remained relatively muted. This coupled with seasonality has meant that retail businesses have faced headwinds. Despite this the company has delivered strong results across brands, concepts, categories and channels," Noel Naval Tata, the chairman of Trent said. He said the company will continue to pursue expansion and deepen store presence with the aim of being ever closer to customers. ENS

WORRIED ABOUT LOSING BADLY: LIREN

Given his struggles on & off the board in recent times, Chinese GM feels he is the underdog ahead of Gukesh clash

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Chennai

REIGNING world champion Ding Liren has again admitted that he sees D Gukesh as the clear favourite heading into their title clash in Singapore later this month.

Liren, whose form plateaued after he won the title last year, is worried that he may lose 'very badly'. Speaking to Kaja Snare, a prominent chess broadcaster on YouTube, the 32-year-old said: "I am worried about losing very badly. Hopefully it won't happen," he said. "Maybe I am not so eager to play. I don't have the same ambitions to win the game," he elaborated when he was asked for why he felt that way. While Gukesh has enjoyed a great year, Liren hasn't. In a previous interview, he had spoken about sleepless nights. In an interview to this daily ahead of the Norway Chess in May, he had said: "My sleep has not been so good, not in the best shape, that's why I try not to play so many tournaments."

The event in Norway wasn't a good experience for Liren. He didn't pick up a single win. Worryingly, it's been a broad theme in his play since the start of the year. "My game has many mistakes," he told Snare. "They are in all parts of the game. I sometimes manage to create chances and get winning positions, but I can't convert them. It's the same problem every time. I will be the underdog approaching this match. I hope I can become a totally different player and at least give him a fight to slow down his pace."

Even if there has been a suggestion in some corners that Ding is trying to throw Gukesh off with mindgames such as these, the results cannot lie, they haven't lied for a long time. He's currently on a 28-game winless run and his rating has plumetted to below 2730. Sometime during the interview, published on the TakeTakeTake channel, Liren is hopeful that he puts up a fight to repay the people who have continued to support him during this phase. "Although I play so badly, there are still many who love and support me. Maybe I will need to show that I deserve this kind of support... If I continue to play so badly without any fighting spirit, I may not deserve it."

He has been feeling this way ever since he beat Ian Nepomniachtchi for the crown in 2023. It has led to multiple players commenting on the upcoming match between the Indian challenger, who won multiple gold at the Olympiad in Hungary a few months ago, and the champion. Before the second edition of the Global Chess League in October, Viswanathan Anand, while speaking to this daily, had said: "I think Ding can be slightly happy with his recovery but honestly, he's a better player than his recent form. So I would expect that Gukesh is still very careful. He's playing a very experienced and wise player and you never know when they are going to kick up a notch..."

ERIGAISI WORLD NO 2

Arjun Erigaisi just can't stop winning at the moment. On Thursday, the 21-year-old continued his hot streak as beat Alexey Sarana to become the World No 2. With black pieces, Erigaisi prevailed in 37 moves. Both players were level after an equal opening but Sarana made a blunder in the 31st move. Six moves later, it was all over.

WC heartbreak to dream debut: Thakor's tale of perseverance

GOMESH S @Chennai

WHEN Smriti Mandhana informed Saima Thakor that she would be making her India debut the next day on the bus ride back to the hotel in Ahmedabad, the Mumbai pacer didn't feel anything for a brief while. In fact, even as Renuka Thakur was teasing her saying that she would be up all night, Thakor brushed it all away with a smile. That is exactly what happened. With her mother and family having travelled to Ahmedabad to watch the three-match ODI series against New Zealand, Thakor dialled her elder sister in the middle of the night. "I just called her at 12 in the night and said, 'You take a flight now and get here the next day'," recalls Thakor in a conversation with this daily on the sidelines of Mumbai's win against Punjab in the senior women's T20 pre-quarterfinal in Mumbai.

Four hours later, her sister was on a flight to Ahmedabad, and reached in time to watch Saima get her India cap. It was the moment of the family as it was hers. From leaving football to taking up cricket or getting that extra time from parents to pursue her dream of playing the sport or travelling across the Mumbai locals to train and play wherever she can, her sister and the family has been with her every step of the way. "I really wanted her to be there. She has supported me in cricket a lot. She's taking all the responsibility in the house and you know how elder siblings are. I was the lucky one that I have a sister like that, I have an elder brother like that. They've been supporting me and it was really good to see them. After taking my first wicket, I was looking at them. I was just happy that they were there. After the game, I saw my mom coming and it was such an emotional moment and it's very close to my heart. Doing something for your parents and when they smile back at you, it's the best thing in the world," Saima relives the moment with the biggest grin.

Saima's debut did not come as a surprise. The 28-year-old pacer had been toiling in the domestic circuit since 2017 and her part in Mumbai winning the domestic T20 title followed by the Women's Premier League stint with UP Warriorz pushed her into the limelight. She was called up as a travelling reserve for the T20 World Cup where India endured a heartbreak and a week later, Saima was in Ahmedabad fulfilling her dream. Which is why, despite the rollercoaster of a month she had, the pacer was ready when the moment came. "There are a lot of emotions there. But in the end, I have been preparing myself for four-five years. I just had that confidence that I will get that chance and if I am getting that chance I just have to be prepared and ready. I think the feeling (when she finally wore the India cap) I would say was more of a responsibility. Like, I have more responsibility from here. Because, (if) I was playing for my state, I have that responsibility. But I'm playing for India now, I need to take more responsibility, especially if I'm playing in the XI, then everything is my responsibility."

WPL: RANA, WONG TO GO UNDER HAMMER

India all-rounder Sneh Rana, New Zealand's Lea Tahahu and England pacer Issy Wong are among the prominent players who were released by their respective Women's Premier League franchises on Thursday. Rana, who had been a part of Gujarat Giants and even captained the team in the second season, was released by them while Wong was let go off Mumbai Indians, who already have Shabnim Ismail. Meanwhile, senior spinner Poonam Yadav and big hitter Laura Harris were released by Delhi Capitals. Defending champs Royal Challengers Bengaluru retained their core while releasing Disha Kasat, Indrani Roy, Shraddha Pokarkar, Shubha Satheesh, and Simran Bahadur.

Manohar's unbeaten fifty keeps Karnataka afloat against Bengal

ENS/AGENCIES @ Chennai

ABHINAV Manohar made a determined unbeaten fifty to rescue Karnataka after a top-order collapse, taking the hosts to 155 for five against Bengal after second day's play of their Ranji Trophy Group C match in Bengaluru on Thursday.

Manohar made 50 off 73 balls (6x4, 1x6) and added 58 runs for the unbroken sixth wicket stand with Shreyas Gopal (23 batting) as Karnataka recovered from a wobbly 97 for five. Karnataka still trail by 146 runs. Bengal, resuming from overnight 249 for five, could not progress much and got bowled out for 301. Pacer V Koushik (5/38) and leg-spinner Shreyas (3/87) combined to pluck the remaining five Bengal wickets for 52 runs. But that joy was shortlived as Bengal bowlers Suraj Sindhu Jaiswal (2/53) and R Vivek (2/44) rocked the Karnataka top-order with regular strikes. In fact, the home side lost their most experienced batters ' captain Mayank Agarwal (17) and Manish Pandey (0) in a span of six balls.

Kerala in driver's seat

THIRUVANANTHAPURAM: Skipper Sachin Baby scored 83 while Salman Nizar was unbeaten on 74 as Kerala posted 340/7 on Day 2 after bowling out Uttar Pradesh for 162. Resuming on 82/2, Kerala lost overnight batters Baba Aparajith and Aditya Sarwate in a quick succession but Baby and Nizar made sure they take a healthy lead of 178 runs at stumps.

Iyer slams 233 for Mumbai

MUMBAI: Shreyas Iyer continued with his red-hot form, smashing a stroke-filled 233 to lead Mumbai to a massive 602 for four declared in their match against Odisha. Iyer's second consecutive ton in Ranji Trophy also turned out to be his highest score in first-class cricket. Iyer's knock was well complimented by Siddhesh Lad's 169 not out. Mumbai then reduced Odisha to 146/5.

Andhra in big trouble

VIZIANAGARAM: Andhra are in a precarious position against Uttarakhand in their match after the home team was reduced to 92/4 on Day 2. Uttarakhand posted 338 in their first essay. Andhra still trail by 246 runs with two days remaining.

Radesh's ton for Hyderabad

JAIPUR: Overnight batter Rahul Radesh scored a century as Hyderabad made a formidable 410 against hosts Rajasthan in their first innings. Kukna Ajay Singh claimed 5/139 for the home team. Rajasthan came up with a strong reply as they were 117/1 at stumps with opener Abhijeet Tomar and Mahipal Lomror unbeaten on 44 and 58 runs respectively.

Assam put up fight vs TN

GUWAHATI: Assam top order fought well to post 176/3 against Tamil Nadu in their first essay. Rishav Das scored 54 while skipper Denish Das was unbeaten on 54 at stumps. Earlier, Tamil Nadu posted 338.

Delhi concede lead

CHANDIGARH: Delhi conceded first innings lead in their match against Chandigarh. In reply to Delhi's total of 276, Chandigarh posted 324 on Day 2.

Jurel makes an impression in MCG, Rahul misses out

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Chennai

WHEN the Indian team management and selectors decided to advance KL Rahul and Dhruv Jurel's departure to Australia, they had good reason. Rahul, in all likelihood, will open in place of Rohit Sharma come the first Test in Perth and Jurel could be an option for the former's spot as a middle-order bat. Both hadn't played as much as they would have liked this home season, so understandably, they were asked to play the second game between India A and Australia A which began in Melbourne on Thursday.

By the time day one came to an end, Jurel was the biggest winner as he not only showed that he belonged at that level with a gritty half-century, but also rescued India from 11/4 to 155/9 by the time he fell. His 186-ball 80, which came against a quality pace attack featuring Scott Boland and Michael Neser, will give him and the team management a lot of confidence.

What comes as a worry is the way Rahul got out for just four, edging Boland's good length delivery that slightly moved away from him. With Rohit expected to miss the first Test, Rahul will be the most senior batter in the top three with the experience of touring Australia thrice before (In 2021, he was ruled out midway due to wrist sprain having been hit during training). He will have one more innings at the MCG before joining the squad in Perth. The other key prospect of the game was Nitish Kumar Reddy who had been fast-tracked since his exploits in the Indian Premier League. Reddy, while not up there with his red-ball bowling at the moment, is perhaps the most viable seam-bowling batter they have in the mix and the management is keen on grooming him. He had a bit of fun on Thursday with the bat but did not last long — a 35-ball 16.

Blasters lose in controversial fashion

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Kochi

KERALA Blasters suffered their third successive defeat in the ongoing season of the Indian Super League, here on Thursday. In what was a battle between two clubs from South, Blasters lost (1-2) in a controversial fashion against Hyderabad FC. With the game locked at 1-1, Hyderabad were awared a penalty in the 68th minute. The referee deemed Hormipam Ruivah had handled the ball when he was on the ground but the replays appeared to say otherwise. Andrei Alba stepped up to score his and the away side's second goal.

Earlier, Jesus Jimenez had put the home side in front. Korou Singh Thingujam made a darting towards the goal before a cutback inside the penalty box. Jimenez was the quickest to react and hit a first-time finish. At the stroke of half-time, Alba had hit a sweet strike from just inside the penalty box to bring the game on level terms. The assist was equally impressive as Parag Shrivas beat a defender inside the box before laying it on the plate for Alba.

Just seconds after Hyderabad took the lead, Blasters had a golden chance to respond. Noah Sadaoui found himself unmarked inside the box but he couldn't get a proper connection.

Inter sink Arsenal, Atletico hit late to overcome PSG

AGENCIES @ Paris

A HAKAN Calhanoglu penalty gave Inter Milan a 1-0 victory over Arsenal in the Champions League on Wednesday, while a 93rd-minute winner ensured Atletico Madrid left Paris with all three points.

The Italian champions remain undefeated in the competition this season and sit fifth on 10 points at the midway point of the new league phase format. Arsenal, on the other hand, experienced defeat for the first time in Europe this season and lie three points and seven places behind their opponents. The match at the San Siro looked set to go into the break goalless until a penalty was signalled against Mikel Merino after Mehdi Taremi's flick deviated the ball into the Arsenal player's raised hand from close range.

WEDNESDAY'S RESULTS: Club Brugge 1-0 Aston Villa; Shakhtar Donetsk 2-1 Young Boys; Bayern Munich 1-0 Benfica; Feyenoord 1-3 Salzburg; Inter Milan 1-0 Arsenal; PSG 1-2 Atletico Madrid; Red Star Belgrade 2-5 Barcelona; Sparta Prague 1-2 Brest; Stuttgart 0-2 Atalanta.

Calhanoglu stroked home the resulting spot-kick three minutes into first-half injury time.

Five-star Barcelona

Barcelona beat Red Star Belgrade 5-2 in Serbia. The Catalans took the lead on 13 minutes via a stooping header by defender Inigo Martinez. But Red Star struck back just prior to the half-hour when Silas Mvumpa sprang the Barca offside trap and lifted the ball past Inaki Pena. Robert Lewandowski effectively ensured Barca stayed in the automatic qualification spots with a quick-fire double either side of the break. Raphinha and Fermin Lopez then netted, before Felicio Milson curled in a late consolation for the hosts.

Atletico stunned PSG 2-1 in the French capital as Angel Correa's stoppage-time winner gave the Spaniards a second Champions League win this term. The loss means the French champions sit in the elimination zone with one win and a draw from four.

Gen AI creates more ability for engineers to unlock creativity

UMA KANNAN @ Bengaluru

NASDAQ-list Nasdaq-listed global software company PTC is among the leading providers of product development software for global automakers like Volkswagen, BMW, and Toyota. Neil Barua, chief executive officer of PTC, who was in Bengaluru recently, told TNIE that the company has been using artificial intelligence (AI) for more than 10 years.

"Our belief at PTC is we're using generative AI in our software that creates more ability for engineers to unlock creativity than deal with the mundane tasks of software development," he said.

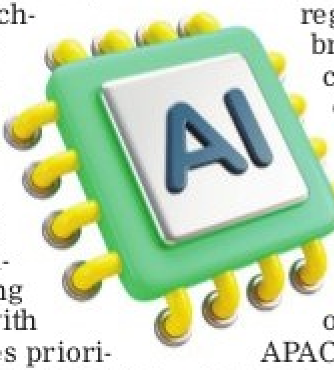
People are now interested in knowing more new features in the car. "So that's causing software to be such a more important version of the experience than just how the car looks," he said, adding that his company has been using AI for over 10 years now. "Machine learning has been around for a long time. Generative AI is what all the buzz has been for the last year since OpenAI came out of nowhere with some great LLMs (large language models)," he said. "Take for example, software-defined vehicles, the software we give to an automaker or a supplier of those capabilities, have to write and develop software, to actually enable you to walk in a car and be able to press a button and for it to have a response to it. That's all software-driven. That software is now being written on or being developed on a product we call Codebeamer, which does all the requirements management, the testing of it, the release management of that code, the traceability of it," he explained.

He added that the company has been applying generative AI in a lot of the test cases, the requirements are manual processes for software engineers to do. "It takes loads of time for them to develop those, execute on them. But LLMs, generative AI, is very well attuned to aggregating similar things that have been created in the past by which you've recommended and have the engineers focus on creative ways in which they're going to develop versus the monotonous elements of getting to the creative part," he said.

LOW-CODE HERE TO STAY FOR ASIA-PACIFIC FIRMS

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

LOW-CODE adoption continues to accelerate across APAC (Asia-Pacific) as one-third (33%) of enterprises recognised it as a critical tool for driving automation and future-proofing their businesses. IDC predicts that by 2025, more than 60% of enterprises globally will adopt low-code technologies to enable faster application delivery and improve operational efficiency.



In its report, IDC points out that by region, Southeast Asia and Hong Kong lead APAC with 49% of enterprises prioritising low code for automation solutions, followed by India at 35% and Australia at 31%.

IDC says this shows a continued recognition of low code's strategic value in driving competitive advantage within a disruptive landscape, especially as businesses face demands to deliver apps and innovate more efficiently amidst economic uncertainty and a shortage of skilled developers. "The integration of GenAI with low-code technologies is poised to meet the increasing demand for rapid application delivery and legacy modernisation," said Dhiraj Pramod Badgujar, senior research manager, XOps Software Development and AI Developer Strategies Practice, IDC Asia/Pacific. "Our research reveals that organisations across the region are rapidly embracing this powerful combination to accelerate software release cycles and significantly enhance productivity," he added.

The research shows that over 60% of applications in APAC are legacy systems, posing hurdles like rigid architectures and high maintenance costs. The skills shortage exacerbates these issues, and modernising these systems remains a priority for enterprises. However, outdated frameworks and low developer productivity often hinder progress. To overcome these obstacles, 68% of APAC enterprises are turning to modern development tools—including low code, integrated development environments, and DevOps. While low-code platforms can streamline software development by enabling faster application creation with minimal coding, AI-powered low-code solutions take this a step further by automating complex processes and delivering intelligent insights, which boost efficiency and spark innovation. About 25% of APAC enterprises are now prioritising the integration of GenAI into developer tools to drive more intelligent application development.

"We are witnessing unprecedented levels of productivity and innovation unlocked for businesses in APAC through the synergistic relationship between GenAI and low code," said Mark Weaser, vice-president, APAC at OutSystems.

AI and low-code: Intelligent app development's future

IDC forecasts that by 2026, 40% of net-new applications in APAC will be 'intelligent apps', which incorporate GenAI to elevate existing user experiences and unlock new use cases. Top impact areas of GenAI in software development and design include increased productivity (61%), high value dev tasks/creativity (50%), and accelerated developer velocity (40%).

Also, additional findings reveal that AI and automation initiatives, along with application development platforms, are among the most resilient to budget cuts, even in uncertain economic climates. About 30% of APAC enterprises are willing to pay a premium of 11-20% for GenAI features integrated into app development environments.

"Our research shows that many businesses in the region are actively considering opportunities to layer GenAI with low-code technologies," said Daniel-Zoe Jimenez, vice-president, digital innovation, software, CX, SMB/DNB and channels research, IDC Asia/Pacific. "One of the main benefits of this integration is that it can help organizations accelerate their legacy modernisation journeys. This approach can shorten the software development life cycle, while maintaining high application performance," he added.

AI-driven threat detection is crucial in combating modern ransomware tactics

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

RANSOMWARE has transitioned into an organised, scalable business model via Ransomware-as-a-Service (RaaS), where even low-skilled cybercriminals can launch sophisticated attacks, says a report by Check Point. The September 2024 Ransomware Status Report flags the dangers of a rapidly evolving ransomware landscape. Also, the shift to data extortion by groups indicates that ransomware is becoming more difficult to prevent and mitigate. It says that these changes demand a stronger focus on safeguarding data rather than relying solely on preventing breaches.

Check Point says as groups like Meow prioritise data theft and extortion, even the most prepared companies with solid backup strategies remain vulnerable. Data can be stolen and sold, causing significant reputational and legal damage. It says to counter this, businesses must go beyond traditional backups and implement data-loss prevention (DLP) systems, enhanced encryption, and stringent access control policies. AI-driven threat detection is also crucial in combating modern ransomware tactics.

With new actors like RansomHub rising to prominence, while previously dominant groups such as Lockbit experience a sharp decline, the ransomware landscape is witnessing significant changes. Ransomware remains the most pervasive cyber threat, with financially motivated criminal groups deploying increasingly sophisticated tactics, including RaaS models and double extortion. The report, based on Check Point Research's (CPR) September 2024 analysis, also says that certain industries, like manufacturing, healthcare, and education, are particularly vulnerable. These sectors need tailored solutions to secure legacy systems and protect sensitive data. In healthcare, ransomware is not just a cybersecurity threat—it can disrupt critical services, making automated incident response and realtime monitoring essential. It also points out tactical shifts from encryption to data extortion. One of the most significant changes observed in 2024 has been the shift in ransomware tactics, with many groups moving away from encryption-based attacks toward data theft and extortion.

US, China must get along, Xi tells Trump

Says in his message history shows "China and the US benefit from cooperation and suffer from confrontation"

BEIJING

CHINESE President Xi Jinping said on Thursday that Beijing and Washington must find a way to "get along" in a message to US president-elect Donald Trump, state media reported.

In his first message to Trump since the former president secured a second term, Xi said "history has shown that China and the United States benefit from cooperation and suffer from confrontation," state broadcaster CCTV said.

"A stable, healthy and sustainable China-US relationship is in the common interest of both countries and is in line with the expectations of the international community," Xi said. He called for Washington and Beijing to "strengthen dialogue and communication" and "properly manage differences". The two countries must "find a correct way... to get along in this new era, to benefit both countries and the world", Xi said.

Chinese Vice President Han Zheng also sent a message to vice president-elect JD Vance, CCTV said.

Both Republican Trump and his Democratic rival Kamala Harris had pledged to get tougher on Beijing.

But Trump upped the ante, vowing to slap 60% tariffs on all Chinese goods entering the United States.

The president-elect aims to "restore some level of balance in the US-China trade", Yun Sun, a Senior Fellow at the Stimson Center, said.

"Given his arts of 'maximum pressure' before striking a deal, I do expect him to impose the tariff," she added.

On Thursday the Chinese leader said he hoped "that both sides will uphold the principles of mutual respect, peaceful coexistence and win-win cooperation".

Beijing this week declared its hope that the two countries could enjoy a "peaceful coexistence" in the future, while remaining tight-lipped on how precisely the mercurial magnate's victory could affect ties.

Xi and Trump have previously met four times, and the former president has touted his "very strong relationship" with the Chinese leader.

He has also claimed he would be able to talk Xi out of an attack on self-ruled Taiwan with threats of 150% tariffs.

Analysts had said the election outcome would be a key focus of this week's gathering of top lawmakers in Beijing, aimed at ironing out a stimulus plan to boost China's struggling economy.

Chief among the concerns will be how Beijing responds to Trump's expected huge tariff hike, which asset managers PineBridge Investments have suggested could hit $500 billion worth of Chinese exports.

"We expect the Chinese government to respond with limited retaliation and more domestic policy support to the economy, to partially offset the negative impact," Tao Wang, Chief China Economist at UBS Investment Research, said.

Trump's victory ushers in a new era of uncertainty in the United States and the world, and heralds a possible shift in US-China relations, frayed in recent years by tensions over everything. AFP

Aussie US' ambassador deletes tweets on Trump

Sydney: Australia's high-profile ambassador to Washington – former centre-left prime minister Kevin Rudd – has deleted a series of withering social media posts about Donald Trump, following the Republican's election victory. Australia's foreign affairs department told a parliamentary hearing on Thursday that Rudd had deleted the tweets to "eliminate the possibility of such comments being misconstrued"

'Concede poll, not fight that fueled campaign'

WASHINGTON

US President Joe Biden spoke with Donald Trump on Wednesday and "expressed his commitment to ensuring a smooth transition."

Biden has also invited Trump to meet at the White House, despite their long history of bitter animosity. Trump campaign spokesman Steven Cheung said the president-elect "looks forward to the meeting, which will take place shortly."

It will be the first time they have met since Biden's disastrous debate performance against Trump in June that forced him out of the race.

Trump, who is at his Mar-a-Lago resort in Florida, is now working on his transition team after an overwhelming victory that promises a radically transformed political landscape for the US and the world.

His campaign said in a statement late Wednesday that "in the days and weeks ahead, President Trump will be selecting personnel to serve our nation under his leadership."

Meanwhile Kamala Harris gave a defiant concession speech while vowing to help his transition to power.

An emotional vice president Harris told tearful supporters in a speech in Washington "do not despair", and she urged them to "keep fighting" after her loss.

But the Democrat's pledge to ensure a peaceful handover stood in stark contrast with Republican Trump's unprecedented refusal four years ago to admit defeat by Joe Biden, culminating in the violent attack by his supporters on the US Capitol.

"While I concede this election, I do not concede the fight that fueled this campaign," Harris said in her short, powerful speech at Howard University, her alma mater.

"I know many people feel like we are entering a dark time," she said, her voice hoarse as she made her first public remarks since Trump's surprisingly heavy victory. "But for the benefit of us all, I hope that's not the case." AFP

Biden being blamed for VP's loss by her allies

Washington: Some of the vice president's backers are expressing frustration that Biden's decision to seek reelection until this summer 'despite longstanding voter concerns about his age and unease about post-pandemic inflation as well as the US-Mexico border' all but sealed his party's loss of the White House

German coalition govt in minority as Scholz sacks FM

BERLIN

AFTER Germany's government coalition collapsed in a dramatic fashion when Chancellor Olaf Scholz fired Finance Minister Christian Lindner of the pro-business Free Democrats, Scholz said he would lead the country with a minority government, despite calls from opposition leaders on Thursday for early elections.

The chancellor said the minority government would be made up of his Social Democrats and the Greens until early next year — even as the leader of the biggest opposition bloc in parliament, Friedrich Merz from the center-right Christian Democrats, called for an immediate no-confidence vote and new elections.

Scholz stressed again on Thursday, that he does not want to call a vote of confidence before Jan 15.

"The citizens will soon have the opportunity to decide anew how to proceed," the chancellor said, according to the German news agency dpa. "That is their right. I will therefore put the vote of confidence to the Bundestag at the beginning of next year."

A meeting with Merz and Scholz at the chancellery around noontime on Thursday about a possible date for the next election ended after less than an hour with Merz leaving without commenting on the talks. Later on Thursday, President Frank-Walter Steinmeier gave fired Finance Minister Lindner and two other Free Democrats officials who had resigned — Research Minister Bettina Stark-Watzinger and Justice Minister Marco Buschmann — their certificates of dismissal. AP

Israel passes law to deport families of attackers

JERUSALEM

ISRAEL's parliament passed a law early on Thursday that would allow it to deport family members of Palestinian attackers, including the country's own citizens, to the Gaza Strip or other locations.

The law, which was championed by members of Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu's Likud party and his far-right allies, passed with a 61-41 vote but is likely to be challenged in court.

It would apply to Palestinian citizens of Israel and residents of annexed east Jerusalem who knew about their family members' attacks beforehand or who 'express support or identification with the act of terrorism.'

They would be deported, either to the Gaza Strip or another location, for a period of 7 to 20 years. The Israel-Hamas war is still raging in Gaza, where tens of thousands have been killed and most of the population has been internally displaced, often multiple times.

It was unclear if it would apply in the occupied West Bank, where Israel already has a longstanding policy of demolishing the family homes of attackers. Palestinians have carried out scores of stabbing, shooting and car-ramming attacks against Israelis in recent years.

Dr Eran Shamir-Borer, a senior researcher at the Israel Democracy Institute and a former international law expert for the Israeli military, said that if the law comes before the Supreme Court, it is likely to be struck down based on previous Israeli cases regarding deportation.

'The bottom line is this is completely non-constitutional and a clear conflict to Israel's core values," said Shamir-Borer.

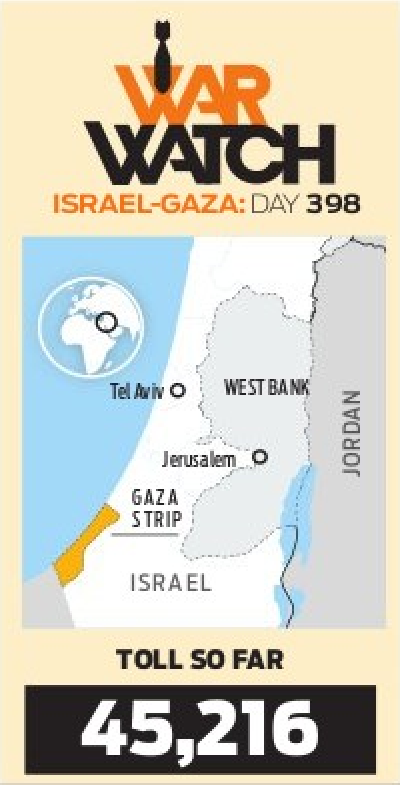
IDF to allow 300 truckloads of aid supplied by UAE

Jerusalem: The Israeli military said it will allow 300 truckloads of humanitarian aid supplied by the United Arab Emirates to enter the Gaza Strip in the coming days. COGAT, the military body in charge of civilian affairs in Gaza, said the aid was brought in by sea and unloaded at the Israeli port of Ashdod, just north of Gaza. The shipment includes food, water, medical equipment, shelter and hygiene supplies



9/11 mastermind's plea deal valid, says military judge

WASHINGTON

A military judge has ruled that plea agreements struck by alleged September 11 mastermind Khalid Sheikh Mohammed and two co-defendants are valid, voiding an order by Defence Secretary Lloyd Austin to throw out the deals, a government official said on Wednesday. The plea agreements would spare Mohammed and the others the risk of the death penalty in exchange for guilty pleas in the long-running 9/11 case.

Government prosecutors had negotiated the deals with defence attorneys under government auspices, and the top official for the military commission at Guantanamo Bay, Cuba, had approved them.

The plea deals in the September 11, 2001, al-Qaida attacks that killed nearly 3,000 people spurred immediate political blowback by Republican lawmakers and others when announced in late July.

The agreements and Austin's attempt to reverse them, have been one of the most fraught episodes in a US prosecution marked by delays and legal difficulties, including years of ongoing pretrial hearings to determine the admissibility of statements by the defendants given their years of torture in CIA custody.

A legal blog that long has covered the prosecutions from the Guantanamo courtroom said McCall's 29-page ruling concludes that Austin lacked the authority to toss out the plea deals.

Pentagon had no immediate further comment, said Maj Gen Pat Ryder, press secretary. AP

Canada to shut TikTok offices over security review

Ottawa: Canada said on Wednesday it is shutting down TikTok's offices in the country following a security review, but people will still be allowed to use the popular video-sharing app. "The government is taking action to address the specific national security risks related to ByteDance Ltd's operations in Canada," Francois-Philippe Champagne, minister of innovation, science and industry, said in a statement. Ottawa is not imposing restrictions on Canadian users of TikTok, which has come under scrutiny for its ownership under China-based ByteDance. "The decision to use a social media application or platform is a personal choice," Champagne said. Canada banned TikTok from all government devices last year and launched a security review of app

Wind-fuelled wildfire in Los Angeles area puts 10,000 on evacution notice

CAMARILLO

A fast-moving wildfire fuelled by heavy winds was tearing through a community northwest of Los Angeles for a second day Thursday after destroying dozens of homes and forcing thousands of residents to flee when it exploded in size in only a few hours.

The Mountain Fire prompted evacuation orders Wednesday for more than 10,000 people as it threatened 3,500 structures in suburban communities, ranches and agricultural areas around Camarillo, California Gov Gavin Newsom said.

The fire was at 0% containment late on Wednesday, according to the Ventura County Fire Department.

The National Weather Service said a red flag warning, which indicates conditions for high fire danger, would remain in effect until 6 pm on Thursday. Winds were expected to decrease significantly by Thursday night, the weather service said. Officials in several Southern California counties urged residents to be on watch for fast-spreading blazes, power outages and downed trees amid the latest round of notorious Santa Ana winds. There were more than 30,000 customers without power statewide early Thursday, including about 3,000 in Ventura County and about 4,000 Los Angeles County, according to poweroutage.us. AP

South Korea mulls weapons sales to Kyiv

Seoul: Major arms exporter South Korea is not ruling out providing weapons directly to Ukraine, President Yoon Suk Yeol said Thursday, signalling a possible shift in Seoul's stance on the issue. Yoon also revealed he had discussed North Korea with US president-elect Donald Trump in a phone conversation that laid the groundwork for a meeting in the "near future".

South Korea has a long-standing policy of not providing weapons to countries in conflict but indicated that could change
